£200,000 proposed upgrade for town

RUGELEY town centre will be given a £200,000 facelift with new seating areas and bins installed to improve its image.

The plans have been included in Cannock Chase District Council's proposed budget.

Council leader George Adamson said: "Rugeley town centre is beginning to look a bit rundown, so we want to improve that in the next year and make it more attractive."

The planned revamp is part of a larger plan to spruce up the district's main towns.

Tim Jones, Rugeley Town Council head of planning said: "The town council has been pressing for this for a long time.

Welcome

"The town centre clearly needs regeneration.

"The devil is in the detail, but we do of course welcome the plans. We want to make people coming into town feel welcome and make them want to come back.

"They key thing is just to make the town centre look more attractive to encourage shoppers and the right sort of businesses.

The plans were being discussed today (Thursday) at a Cannock Chase Council cabinet meeting.

Restaurant wins praise

A HOTEL and restaurant in Penkridge has been awarded a four star rating by environmental health bosses.

The Bridgehouse, at Stonecross, was praised for its high standards of food hygiene following a visit by health inspectors from South Staffs Council.

The food safety inspection report praised the hotel and restaurant for measures which have been put in place following a visit last year.

Owner Raj Dhanda said £30,000 had been spent on making the improvements.

Former pub transformed into estate agents

Owner Angi Cooney outside the former Globe pub

IT WAS once a place where you could grab a pint – but you can now find your dream home in a former Rugeley pub following its transformation into an estate agents.

Businesswoman Angi Cooney has spent the past few months renovating the former Globe pub in Upper Brook Street.

Angi, a director of C Residential in Rugeley, relocated the business into the pub earlier this month.

The pub closed around two and a half years ago and Angi originally tried to buy it in 2011, but lost the sale to another potential buyer who then backed out of the deal.

Features

She finally managed to get her hands on the keys in October last year before renovating it – while keeping as many original features of the building as possible – using local, independent tradesmen, and transforming it into her estate agent business.

"It was just meant to be.," said Angi. "Having it now is just a dream come true.

"There was a lot of work to do but I am so happy with it and the workmen have all just done a fantastic job," she said.

Work took eight weeks to complete, and part of the bar and the beer pumps were donated to other businesses.

"I wanted other people to benefit from this and I wanted to show people that you can do things locally," Angi added.

"What is quite nice is that we originally opened our business on January 3, 2002, and we all moved into our new office on January 3, 2013.

"It's great as I can now expand the business too with this building."

Message reminder service is cash saver

MORE than £84,000 has been saved by health bosses running Cannock and Stafford hospitals since the introduction of a new text messaging service to remind patients of appointments.

Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust brought in the system last May, sending out reminders to patients a week before their outpatient appointment. More than 1,135 extra patients have attended since, saving time and money for consultants and nursing staff.

Patients receive either a text message or a voice message on their landline giving details of their appointment.

Patients

The system also allows patients to speak with a member of staff if they wish to alter their appointment or, if outside of normal office hours, to leave a message.

The service was launched to reduce the number of lost appointments.

Outpatients service manager Catrina Cornwall said: "It can be frustrating for patients to realise they have forgotten an appointment, and equally frustrating for consultants and nursing staff who are waiting for their patients to turn up.

"The reminder service helps to prevent this."

Chase date for Paloma

SINGER Paloma Faith will play at Cannock Chase on June 28. The Stone Cold Sober star is the latest big name to play a concert at the beauty spot, organised by the Forestry Commission.

Faith, aged 27, burst onto the music scene in 2009 with her debut album Do You Want the Truth or Something Beautiful?

Her hits, include New York and Picking Up the Pieces and Never Tear Us Apart Tickets are £32 and on sale from tomorrow (Friday).

RESIDENTS CRYING FOUL ON DOG MESS

ANGRY residents are calling for action to be taken over the number of dog fouling offences on Etching Hill and nearby fields.

More than a dozen people have taken to social networking website Facebook to voice their concerns – and that number is increasing.

by Will Ackermann and Charlotte Lilley

Concerned resident Kate Young, aged 34, of Peakes Road, said: "On Etching Hill itself it can be quite bad and also on the pavements.

"We are trying to promote the area as a nice place to go. Dog fouling is disgusting and it ruins the area."

Friends of Etching Hill spokesman Geoff Brookes confirmed there was an issue with dog fouling in the area but added the group was doing all it could to combat the problem.

Unsightly

He said: "Last year we gave one of our members a poop scoop to help him rid the area of the unsightly dog mess and while the problem has got better there are still a few dog owners who let their pets go anywhere.

"There is no excuse for not picking up after your dog. The people who don't are creating a health hazard for everyone else."

Offenders face a maximum fine of £1,000 or a fixed penalty ticket of £50.

But despite this, owners are continuing to allow their pets to leave their mark.

Etching Hill councillor Justin Johnson said: "These people need to be caught. It would be a good idea to have a day warden to patrol the area but with financial constraints this is difficult."

Cannock Chase District Council maintains it does carry out patrols in the area but also relies on the public to identify fouling hotspots.

Anyone who sees a dog owner breaking the law is urged to contact the Environmental Health department on 01543 462621.

Kate Teele, Stacey Phillips, Emily Appleby, Pat Weatherby, Victoria Smith and Maria Bolan are starring in The Three Musketeers at Rugeley's Rose Theatre

It will take place at the Rose Theatre, in Taylors Lane, starting tonight (Thursday) and running until Saturday (January 19).

Performances are from 7.30pm although there will be a matinee on the Saturday from 2.30pm.

Emily Appleby, from the committee, said: "Everyone is really positive. It is a really funny script. It is nice once you have put all the hard work in during rehearsals to have an audience."

Nature reserve plan at old colliery site backed

PLANS to transform a 92-acre coal mining site in Huntington into a nature reserve have been welcomed by Coal Authority bosses.

Managers met with councillors and MP Gavin Williamson last Friday to discuss the proposal for the old Littleton Colliery, next to Shoal Hill Common.

The site was once mined by hundreds of workers until its closure in 1993 and now boasts a wide variety of wildlife and plants.

South Staffordshire MP Mr Williamson met with the Coal Authority to discuss the plan to preserve the site, which bosses agreed to give "serious consideration".

Mr Williamson said: "The Coal Authority has now agreed to see how it could be used as a more valuable wildlife site.

"The Coal Authority has to keep the site because of the former workings that took place there.

"They have a legal obligation to ensure the water supply doesn't get contaminated, so they have to constantly check the land.

Beauty

"They're looking into what they can do and what is feasible for, perhaps, even just a part of the site."

Mr Williamson said it was his aim to join up the former colliery site with neighbouring Shoal Hill Common, an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty on Cannock Chase.

A number of rare plant, animal, bird and insect species can be found on the area's heathland.

The MP said: "Over the past century, this site has provided much prosperity to the local area and now we welcome any discussions to ensure that we preserve this land for future generations."

David Williams, councillor for Huntington and Hatherton, has also given his backing to the plans.

Car window smashed in village road rage attack

A DRIVER was left with minor hand injuries following a road rage incident near Great Wyrley.

The victim, a 24-year-old man from Willenhall, had his vehicle windows smashed by a man aged about 20 near the Walsall Road junction with Long Lane in Newtown.

Police are now appealing for witnesses.

The incident happened at around 4.45pm last Wednesday (January 9). A grey Toyota Corolla was driving along Walsall Road towards Great Wyrley.

His car was overtaken by a blue Renault Clio, possibly a W-registration, which then stopped and reversed into the Corolla. A man got out of the Renault and confronted the Corolla driver, striking his hand with a baton-type instrument.

A short distance later, the offender, described as around 5' 9 and of average build, approached the Corolla again and smashed two windows. The suspect wore a light grey Adidas jacket and dark trousers and had short blonde hair.

Anyone with information should call Pc Dean on 101, quoting incident number 434 of January 9.

Height

"We are now reaching epidemic proportions with as many as two in three people wanting to reduce their BMI.

"We will be able to offer shoppers advice on what their healthy BMI is for their height and this includes youngsters aged 11-15 when accompanied by a parent or guardian."

The team will be positioned in the main entrance of the store from 8am to 6pm.

Estate agent celebrates 40 years in business

Derek Davis – 40 years

A FORMER coal mining engineer who went on to become one of the longest established estate agents in Staffordshire is celebrating 40 years in business. Derek Davis, who was born in Hednesford, spent his childhood in the mining village of Hazel Slade.

After working for leading Wolverhampton estate agents Maitland Selwyn, he set up his own business, West Midlands Estates Ltd, in 1973.

In the same year he was elected a member of Cannock Chase District Council, a position he held until being elected to the county council in 1985 as the representative for Chadsmoor. From 1989 to 2009 he was chairman of Staffordshire Fire Authority and from 1997 to 2001 he was deputy leader of Staffordshire County Council.

In addition, he also found time to be president of the local Chamber of Commerce and Trade, a school governor and election agent, constituency chairman and secretary of Cannock Chase Labour Party.

History

In recognition of his services to local government he was awarded the OBE in 2010.

Mr Davis continues to be a member of Cannock Chase Labour Party and is leader of the Labour Group on Staffordshire County council.

An avid Wolves supporter and a member of Brocton Hall Golf Club, he has also been researching the history of Hazel Slade for the last 10 years. Mr Davis said of his four decades in business: "I believe success comes from always treating people fairly and with respect."

He owed a debt of gratitude to the late Sir Eric Pountain, former chairman and chief executive of Tarmac plc, who gave him great encouragement from his days with Maitland Selwyn, he said.

He has also always been supported by his wife Muriel, a retired school teacher who serves on Cannock Chase Council, and his son Mark who joined the firm in 2001.

Mr Davis has organised an afternoon of shared memories with friends, relatives and business associates at the Museum of Cannock Chase.

Superstore closes car park to put brakes on boy racers

A GIANT new Tesco in Hednesford is being forced to close its car park on Sunday nights to deter boy racers from congregating there.

Drivers have been gathering in the underground car park at the store after being banned from racing through the streets of Cannock.

by Kirsten Rawlins

Staffordshire Police this week revealed officers have been called to the store in Victoria Street, which opened just two months ago, on Sunday night following complaints from residents about noise.

Discussions have now taken place with Tesco bosses who have decided to shut the car park on Sunday nights.

It comes just a month after police successfully won an injunction stopping boy racers from racing up and down six main roads in Cannock.

Reports

Police spokesman Peter Bate said: "We were called to Tesco in Hednesford on Sunday night following reports of anti-social behaviour involving cars on the car park after the store had closed.

"Officers attended the location and the cars dispersed.

We're obviously aware of the potential for displacement following the successful bid for an injunction and are working closely with Tesco to prevent and combat such behaviour."

Matt Francis, spokesman for Tesco, said: "We've been working with the police on this issue and as a result we'll be closing the underground car park on Sunday evenings from now on."

The issue has also been raised on Twitter by leader of the Conservative party at Cannock Chase Council, Paul Snape, who says there were 17 cars spotted at the store last Saturday and 10 last Sunday.

Since the injunction was passed in December, boy racers in Cannock could face two years behind bars.

Cemetery extension proposal discussed

A CEMETERY in Rugeley could undergo a £250,000 expansion to create more plots. Council chiefs say a new site also could be created in Cannock.

Under new budget plans Cannock Chase Council wants to extend Stile Cop Cemetery. Cannock's site in Pye Green Road has been closed to new burials for about four years.

Cabinet member for planning, Councillor Gordon Alcott said the extension of the Stile Cop Road site would last for 10 to 15 years if the council was unable to find an alternative site for Cannock. The proposals are part of the consultation budget being discussed by the cabinet today (Thursday).

Gallery manager Ashley Corrigan with paintings by television children's entertainer Timmy Mallett for sale at Artworx, in Avon Road, Cannock. Inset, Timmy Mallett

TV star has his paintings on show

HE was once one of the best known faces on children's television – but now madcap Timmy Mallett is making a name for himself in the more sedate world of art.

Artworx in Avon Road, Cannock, has a number of creations on display by the presenter, who made a name for himself on ITV's Wide Awake Club in the 1980s. He also had pop success under the guise of Bombalurina, reaching number one in 1990 with Itsy Bitsy Teeny Weeny Yellow Polka Dot Bikini and was a contestant on I'm A Celebrity . . . in 2008.

Bosses at the gallery say the artwork is going down a storm with visitors. Two paintings there now include a sunflower meadow and one featuring a red telephone box.

Artworx gallery manager Ashley Corrigan said: "People will have a walk round, see the name next to the paintings and ask us if it's the actual Timmy Mallett from the TV."

The paintings are doing really well. We've had about 10 in and now only have two left.

"His works seem very popular with art investors – one sold for £5,000."

NAMED and shamed in a survey for its terrible customer relations, one high-street bank puts up a spokeswoman who trills blithely: "Improving the service we provide our customers remains our top priority." This is bunkum rolled in claptrap and served with a massive side order of whoppers, and the sheer brass-necked gall is breathtaking. As we all know full well, the top priority of any bank, to the exclusion of almost anything else, is making money. In pursuit of that aim, customers will be deceived in their millions and staff will be sacked in their thousands. I am reminded of the cartoon about a company which once boasted: "Our members of staff are our most precious asset" but then conducted an audit and repositioned the staff just below the paperclips.

A soulmate writes to tell me his finest hour came in Heartbeat, set at the time of the Torrey Canyon oil-spill disaster. The oil tanker ran aground in March 1967 but a car tax disc in the same episode was dated December 1969. Double Ovaltines all round.

WE are told that Jeffrey John, Dean of St Albans, is front-runner to become Britain's first gay bishop. He fits the latest criteria announced by the Church because he is in a civil partnership with another priest but insists the relationship is celibate. If this is the truth (and who can doubt the word of a man of God?) then Jeffrey John and his partner are not gay in any meaningful sense. They are merely long-term friends living together. And if they are allowed the tax breaks and inheritance rights that go with civil partnership, then why are other long-term friends who live together denied the right to have civil partnerships?

Independent school rings changes

NEW gates and signs are on the cards for an independent Cannock school following a name change.

The high-achieving Chase Academy has been renamed Chase Grammar School and has recently installed the new gates after unveiling its new logo.

Mark Ellse, principal of 17 years, says that the name change has been sparked by confusion caused by the government's programme of converting schools to academies.

He said: "Academic achievements at our school are some of the best in the county with A-Level results being among the best in the country. We are independent and offer a different kind of education to the increasing number of academies in Staffordshire"

Chase Academy currently houses around 300 students. It was established in 1976 and was developed off St John's Close from the former convent school on the site dating back to 1879.

Gallery plan for Hoard items to go on display

TREASURES from the Staffordshire Hoard could go on display in a specially-created gallery if a museum's bid for lottery funding is successful.

Discovered in a field in Hammerwich, the hoard of gold and silver items is the largest collection of Anglo Saxon artefacts in the world, jointly owned by Birmingham and Stoke-on-Trent Museums.

by Kirsten Rawlins

And some of the artefacts could soon be exhibited in an interactive, up-close-and-personal gallery at Birmingham Museum, spanning more than 750 sq ft.

The area displaying the hoard currently is only around 165 sq ft.

Head of programming at the museum, Toby Watley, said the planned gallery would provide something for everyone.

Process

He said: "The idea is that the gallery will be able to fit a lot more material in it than our current space.

"We're hoping to use the gallery to show the hoard's international links, as well as the craftsmanship that's gone into making the items and the processes which would have been used.

"We're also looking to create a gallery that's more accessible and informative for a wider audience.

"We want there to be something there for schools and children, as well as for adults and those with a specific interest in the hoard."

The museum expects to hear whether its bid for a grant has been successful by March.

Curator for the museum, Dr David Symons, said he believed the hoard was one of the most significant finds in the past century for British archaeology.

County archaeologist for Staffordshire, Stephen Dean, has given his full support to the plans.

He said: "It's such an important, internationally significant find and therefore deserves a venue that allows people to approach it in its full splendour."

Discount offer on daring driving skills is no stunt

CHASE residents can soon learn about daredevil driving skills. They will discover that handbrake turns and high speed parallel parking skills are no longer just for film stuntmen.

Stunt Drive UK is a new business being set up at Hednesford Park FC's Keys Park home and will open on February 9. People will be able to learn handbrake turns, 360 degree spins and high speed parallel parking for a discounted £50.

Those who sign up will be able to learn how to drive an Austin Mini on two wheels and do full spins.

Marketing manager Vicki Williams said: "We specialise in everything car related, and services we will offer include experience days, corporate days, stunt display teams and arena shows."

Electrical goods recycle move

Joss Presland, waste and engineering services manager and Councillor Janos Toth

RESIDENTS across Cannock Chase can now recycle small electrical and electronic items as part of the district council's kerbside collection service.

Items small enough to be put in a regular supermarket carrier bag can be left either on top or by the side of the blue bin on collection day. Any item with plugs or rechargeable batteries – like mobile phones, toasters, hairdryers, kettles, radios and small power tools – will be accepted. Light bulbs, TV sets computer monitors and laptops, fridges and freezers, washing machines, cookers and microwave ovens will not.

Electrical and electronic goods – including bulky items – can also be taken to the district's household recycling centres at Cannock and Rugeley. For more, visit www.recycleforstaffordshire.org or www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk/wasteservices

Jobs vow on power station project

BOSSES at Rugeley Power Station will create 500 temporary jobs after pledging to use local firms for a two-year building project to convert the plant from coal to woodburning.

The ambitious scheme, which also secures the jobs of the 270-strong workforce, was given the go-ahead by Cannock Chase planning committee last week.

A forest the size of Staffordshire will be burned at the site every year using imported wood, in pellet form, from the USA and Canada. It is the first time the power station will burn more biofuels than coal.

Power station boss David Leich said the future looked "very challenging indeed" two years ago when the UK was set 15 per cent maximum targets for the burning of fossil fuels like coal.

The plant faced a "double hit" with the announcement of an additional tax for burning fossil fuels.

Councillor Bob Todd said: "This can only be of benefit to the local community."

The plan must now be approved by the power station's owners, GDF Suez, based in Paris.

Council Tax bills to rise

COUNCIL Tax bills in Cannock Chase are set to go up by two per cent.

The government has slashed around 20 per cent from Cannock Chase District Council's funding, taking around £1.2 million out of the authority's budget for the next two years.

But all local authorities were offered the equivalent of a one per cent rise – about £60,000 for Cannock Chase - from the government if it kept the rates frozen.

But that grant will be sacrificed in order to raise twice as much directly from taxpayers.

Deal on PR firm

AN advertising and public relations agency based in Cannock has been bought out of administration by its managing director. Ward Lovett Advertising and Public Relations is now Interactive Wardlovett and is operating from its existing offices at Morston Court, Kingswood Lakeside.

Car parking and burial charges in line to rise

BURIAL fees and car parking charges could go up across Cannock Chase as part of a review of fees for council services in a bid to claw back £100,000 from government budget cuts.

Other cost-cutting plans being looked at as part of Cannock Chase Council's proposed budget include buying in equipment at cheaper prices and a re-shuffle of senior management.

The moves are being looked at as part of a number of cuts to save £100,000 for 2014/15.

Services

There could also be a review of policy options, which could mean cutting frontline services. But bosses say that would only be considered as a last resort.

Jamie Summerfield, Cannock Chase Council spokesman, said all services currently sold by the council, such as burial fees and car parking charges, would be scrutinised and could be in line to go up.

He added: "Senior management restructuring is one of a number of potential savings that the council is currently looking at."

Proceeds will go to the We Love Lichfield Fund and Midland Air Ambulance.

Call for donors

BLOOD donors can roll up their sleeves in Cannock next week. NHS Blood and Transplant is appealing for volunteers to attend the civic centre, in Beecroft Road, from 1.30-3.30pm and from 4.30-7.30pm on Monday, January 21. Call 0300 123 23 23 to make an appointment.

Chance to speak out on important issues

YOUR say

HERE'S your chance to speak out about the important issues that affect your life – from bins and buses to policing and pensions.

All this week the Express & Star is asking readers to take part in the Your Say survey, the biggest ever independent snapshot of life in the West Midlands and Staffordshire. And it is not too late to take part.

All 50 questions will be reprinted in Saturday's Express & Star – and you can also take part at a click of a button by logging onto www.expressandstar.com/survey

The Express & Star is asking you for your views on everything from how cuts have affected services in your area to where you choose to do your shopping or enjoy a pint down the pub.

It wants to hear from as many readers as possible so that it can paint an accurate picture of you, your views and your concerns as we enter 2013. The consultation will build on the success of last year's pioneering Express & Star Black Country Census, which gave a valuable insight into the identity of the region, past and present, and attracted around 2,000 responses.

Split into five sections, the Your Say survey concentrates on Your Services, Your Towns, Your Transport, Your Safety and Your Well-Being.

Express & Star editor Adrian Faber said: "We are hoping to create a valuable snapshot of life in this region as we enter 2013. We hope the findings of the survey will provide an insight into the priorities and concerns of our readers, something that service providers like councils and the police will take notice of.

"An essential role of the Express & Star is to give readers a voice and we want that voice to be as powerful as possible."

The Your Say survey has been welcomed by those who help to make the decisions that affect our region

Ian Austin, Labour MP for Dudley North, said: "This is a brilliant initiative for the Express & Star and I have no doubt that councillors, MPs and the people running public services will be watching the results very carefully.

"This is exactly the sort of thing a community newspaper should be doing - listening to local people and highlighting their opinions on the things they care about."

Tragic soldier was counting days until he saw daughter

A SOLDIER killed in action by a member of the Afghan National Army was just weeks away from being reunited with his young daughter in Heath Hayes.

Sapper Richard Walker was a besotted father to Lilly-Faith and had been counting the days to seeing her again.

Devastated Abbie Revill, the 21-month-old's mother, is still coming to terms with news that she will never again see the man she still calls her "best friend" despite their split two years ago. "He was the best father you could ever find – supportive, loving, completely devoted to Lilly," she said. "

The news was broken to Abbie in a phone call from Richard's mother. A Ministry of Defence officer visited her home in Wheatlands Close the next day and has been in daily contact since.

The soldier, from Sunderland, proudly held his daughter at her christening at St Bartholomew's Church in Penn on December 23. He planned to go house-hunting in Sutton Coldfield when he returned and had thought of giving up the Army to be near his new family.

Attention

The pair had originally planned to marry but the enforced absences while he was in the Army put strain on their relationship. However, their mutual devotion to Lilly-Faith led to a deep and loving friendship which saw the young soldier, just short of his 24th birthday, spend most of his leave in Heath Hayes lavishing attention and gifts on his little girl.

The pair last spoke on Christmas Day. "He was saying 'Just three more months and I'll be home'. He couldn't wait to see Lilly again," said Abbie.

The couple met on a blind date, set up by a friend of Abbie's. They got engaged on New Year's Eve 2010, celebrating with a party at the Roman Way Hotel in Cannock.

But when 22-year-old Abbie, who works at Bluebird Care in Cannock, fell pregnant and asked him to leave the Army so they could live as a family, their relationship hit the rocks.

"He loved his job so much, he couldn't give it up, and I respected him for it. But he was still very much involved in our lives."

Commanding officer Lt Col Chas Story said Sapper Walker, who served with the 28 Engineer Regiment, was "hugely respected".

His mother Kathryn said: "Richard held two things close to his heart – his daughter and his colleagues."

Curtain raised on theatre following £52,000 revamp

It's curtain up on new-look Rose Theatre and Community Hall and cleaner Gemma Squire checks on the new floor

RUGELEY'S theatre and community centre has officially reopened following a £52,000 refurbishment.

The Rose Theatre and Community Hall, in Taylors Lane, has had new flooring fitted throughout the whole venue and new furniture installed.

Bosses secured funding to pay for the full revamp through a grant.

Manager Glenis Turner said the venue had been massively improved as a result.

The work included all the windows in the Landor Suite and lounge being replaced, as well as the interior decoration of the Phoenix Theatre, dressing rooms and backstage area. Technical equipment in the theatre such as lighting and sounds systems have also been updated using the money.

Glenis Turner in the revamped technical area at the new-look venue

The Rose Theatre and Community Management Company launched a campaign more than two years ago to make improvements at the venue.

A grant application was submitted to the Coalfields Regeneration Trust in October 2011 which was successful.

Phoenix

Rugeley Town Council supported the project. Mrs Turner said 2013 was looking like an extremely busy year for the venue which features the Landor Site – seating up to 80 people – and the Phoenix Theatre which can house up to 210.

The Rose also holds private and community functions.

Delight as pub marquee blamed for din can stay

Paul and Joan Donner outside their pub

The marquee at the rear of the Park Gate Inn, Cannock Wood

PUB licensees have expressed their delight after councillors ruled a marquee blamed for shattering the peace of a Chase village could stay put.

by Marion Brennan

Residents had complained about a din from revellers using the large tent at the back of The Park Gate Inn in Cannock Wood.

But the marquee was allowed to stay because the 200-year-old inn has been there longer than its neighbours.

Delighted licensees Paul and Joan Donner said it secured up to 25 jobs and the future viability of the pub.

"Most of the houses round here only went up 10 years ago.

"It's like complaning about the noise from children after choosing to live next to a playground," said Mr Donner, aged 62.

The building, which goes back to 1700, opened as a pub in 1810. The marquee, used for weddings and christenings, went up five years ago.

The couple had erected a 10ft fence to shield neighbours in Park Gate Road and adjoining Holly Hill Road from the noise but they complained it amplified the sounds of celebrations.

Objectors also called it an eyesore and not in keeping with the surrounding area, and argued it created parking problems when in use.

But Cannock Chase Council's planning committee last week granted conditional planning permission for the tent and fence after a site visit.

Councillor Danny Davies said: "The pub was there before the surrounding houses. We're talking about a long-established licenced premises, and it should be given a chance.

"We should be mindful that this is someone's livelihood," he added. "Most pubs are closing down these days, and this one might not be viable without the marquee."

Functions

The committee granted planning permission for 12 months on condition that live music stops at 11pm and the overflow car park remains.

Mr Donner, who employs 19 regular staff and more for functions, said they catered for about 30 weddings and 15 christenings a year.

"Pubs can't rely solely on the drinks trade anymore, and without the marquee we'd find it difficult."

Park gate fine steep sum for taxpayer

I READ the story about the park gates getting rammed by a vehicle which had been locked in the car park.

I presume that the person who locked the gates did not jot down the registration? If so the bill could have been sent directly to the person responsible instead of to the tax payer. A note could have even been left on the windscreen with an out of hours telephone number to ring and be let out for a small fee.

I in no way condone the vehicle owner's behaviour but, I do understand their outrage. If there had been adequate parking in town I doubt it would even have been there in the first place.

Why is there no CCTV that would show the vehicle plates and allow the person to be prosecuted? Finally, who's repairing the gates? The £2,000 seems a lot of money and it's a bit steep if it's coming out of my taxes.

Jewel in crown of NHS provision

I WOULD like to respond to Councillor Paul Snape letter in The Chronicle (January 3).

Cannock Hospital is the jewel in the crown of National Health Service provision in Cannock Chase. I absolutely believe that we need to keep our hospital within the NHS and the Government should fully fund the hospital. People in Cannock Chase pay their taxes and National Insurance in the same way as anywhere else in the country and should not have to accept second class NHS provision.

People have mentioned all sorts to go into Cannock Hospital – the library, private health providers, classrooms, a nursery school. The question has to be asked when is a hospital is no longer a hospital?

Unfortunately, many Cannock Conservatives are in denial of their own Tory-led Government's NHS policy. They want to fragment and privatise the NHS and the local MP is ready to take Cannock Hospital out of the NHS.

I believe in a National Health Service that is available to all at the point of need which is funded centrally.

One thing I do agree with Councillor Snape about is that the residents of Cannock Chase will not accept the Tories closing Cannock Hospital.

JANOS TOTH
Cannock Chase Labour Parliamentary Candidate

Bewildered by MP's efforts over hospital

I FEEL I must reply to Councillor Paul Snape's recent letter concerning Cannock Hospital.

I am somewhat bewildered by the efforts of our local MP to save Cannock Hospital from closure even before it is announced that it will close. In fact the health trust and Monitor have said the opposite. So what is this industry and effort by our MP he talks about?

Firstly, a proposal for the council to purchase the building. This would mean a massive increase in our Council Tax.

Secondly, a proposal to take the hospital out of the control of the NHS and create some stand-alone company to be managed and funded in some yet to be defined way.

In my view, our MP is right not to trust his own Government, but surely he should be fighting to keep the hospital open within the NHS before he starts looking for alternatives.

Traders' festive gift

I WOULD like to express my appreciation to the Rugeley Market traders for their Christmas gift to senior citizens who regularly use the market.

It was a lovely surprise and the contents of the "goody bag," an apple, an orange, chocolates, Christmas cake etc, reminded me of my childhood and emptying my Christmas stocking. Thanks once again from a very satisfied customer.

Question raised on manner of driving

I NOTED in The Chronicle how the police and VOSA in conjunction with the local authority, used CCTV to hand out fixed penalties to drivers.

While I agree some motorists are stupid in the manner of their driving, the point I wish to make is the way in which waste collection vehicles are driven which should leave the drivers open to prosecution.

The biggest problem is when they drive down the middle of a road and will not allow other vehicles to pass.

I have in the past been caught behind these vehicles for very long roads. When we do finally get past all we get is abuse. Does the local council know what their contractors get up to?

It is time the local council and other legal organisations looked at the matter for all drivers including waste recovery vehicles.

Amount raised for Poppy plea praised

WE would like to thank all of our customers and members of The Royal British Legion, Great Wyrley division, for their dedication and support for the 2012 Poppy Appeal.

We have just received confirmation that the total raised in store, including the petrol station, was £13,356.37.

As our customers will know, members of the Royal British Legion set up a stand in the foyer for two weeks and sell the poppies from early in the morning through to late hours in the evening.

We look forward to welcoming members back into store next October/November and hope that the 2013 poppy appeal will equal or even surpass last year's total.

Planners turn down bid to extend medical centre

RESIDENTS living near a busy doctors' surgery in Cannock have won their battle to stop the practice being extended.

Householders and councillors claimed dangerous parking by patients using Chase Medical Practice, in Coniston Way, put lives at risk and recently stopped an emergency vehicle from getting through.

The district council last week threw out an application to convert a house opposite the surgery into an extension of the business. The planning committee heard patients double-parked, used residential roads and parked on bends.

The protesters, backed by three councillors, argued that the five-doctor surgery, along with a dentist's and an osteopath's, had turned their once quiet residential area into a congested, semi-commercial estate.

Hampered

Planning officers had recommended approval. But County councillor Pat Corfield, who spoke for residents, said afterwards: "I'm very pleased because these people have put up with enough. This has been about the quality of their lives which has been severely hampered."

Resident Stephen Mercer told the meeting: "Recently my wife narrowly avoided being hit by someone reversing out of the surgery. Last year an ambulance couldn't get through because of dangerous parking."

The applicant, Dr Hirendra Choudhary, said he had no plans to take on more patients and the site would have provided nine extra parking spaces.

Salsa proving hot stuff

Salsa instructor Don Walters with Louise Copper, of Burntwood

THE popularity of Strictly Come Dancing has boosted interest at a salsa class in Cannock.

Teacher Ryan Mellis said inquiries about learning the sexy Latin dance at the Mojito Bar & Grill in Bridgtown had shot up by 10 per cent following the latest TV series, which finished at Christmas.

"The Strictly salsa is purely for show – street salsa is very different. Once you learn the basic steps, you can do it anywhere in the world, not like the TV version."

The 43-year-old former builder also holds sessions at The Quadrant and Cuban Exchange in Wolverhampton.

Joseph Baker (1876-1955)

Lizzie, whom he married in 1902

RESEARCH carried out by members of Cheslyn Hay & District Local History Society has revealed the interesting life of one of the village's former residents.

by Tom Mason

Joseph Baker was born on January 6, 1876 at his grandparents' cottage on Saredon Road and was the eldest of the Bakers' 15 children.

His father William was a miner and well-known in the local pubs and taverns for his loud and overbearing manner.

Later in life the Bakers moved to Littlewood. William, now an overman at the pit, was involved in a terrible disaster that left him severely injured.

William would be out of work for at least 12 months, but luckily the family had been involved in religious revivals that had saved William from drink. It was his friends at the Salem including Rev Thomas Seymour that kept the family going.

He returned to work as a clerk and to supplement his earnings he began to deliver fish from the station to the pits. The successful business led the family, with help from William Crutchley a friend from the Salem, to buy a home in Low street and turn it in to a shop. The store was such a success and it soon became a general store.

At the age of 10, Joe became involved in running the store. Many people at this time relied upon credit and once refused at one store would often move on to the next.

To get their money back, Joe, still a young man at this stage, took the debtors to Walsall's county court, but it made little difference and the family was eventually forced to sell with more than £400 worth of outstanding debt.

By the age of 12, Joe was down the Plant pit earning a shilling a day hauling coal to the surface. Out of these wages, he was allowed to keep a third which he saved and spent on a melodeon and magic lantern.

He set up a show with friend Dickey Merchant and charged local children a ha'penny a time.

Joe would spend the rest of his life down the pit and had two accidents the final one crushing his leg forcing him to take up clerical work at Hawkins Colliery office that he continued doing until 1946.

Crush

It was during his recuperation that Joe was visited by his childhood crush Lizzie Perks and the two were to marry on Christmas Day 1902, setting up home in Hill street. The two would have one child Harriet, who would later marry local lad Sammy Hycock in 1926.

In later life, Joe became devoted to the village that he lovedm helping out with a number of community projects. During the Second World War, he served on the parish council and was an ARP warden.

Joe eventually passed away aged 79 on March 4, 1955.

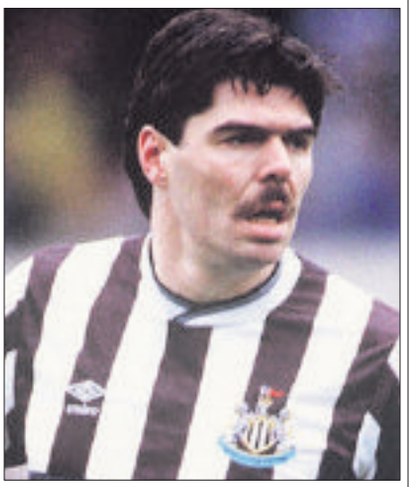
Rugby star Jeff to give a Probyn insight into game

Jeff Probyn during his rugby-playing days with Wasps



Micky Quinn at Newcastle, where he scored 59 goals

FORMER England rugby international Jeff Probyn will be guest at a sportsman's dinner in Penkridge next month.

The event, hosted by Penkridge & District Round Table, will also feature former Premiership striker, now racehorse trainer Micky Quinn.

It takes place at the Mercure Hatherton Hotel, Pinfold Lane, at 7 for 7.30pm on Friday, February 8 in aid of Stafford-based charity A Child Of Mine, which supports bereaved parents. The charity was set up by Gayle Routledge following the death of her son Lewis in 2010 at the age of two. Comedian Lea Roberts will also provide the entertainment and a three-course meal will be served to guests.

Probyn, a former Wasps prop forward, won 37 caps for England from 1988-93. making his international debut at the age of 31.

Scoring

Now aged 56, he is an honorary president of Wooden Spoon, the charity of British and Irish rugby and is also a regular contributor on talkSPORT.

Quinn, meanwhile, played for eight league clubs, scoring more than 200 goals in 500-plus games for the likes of Stockport, Coventry, Portsmouth and Newcastle, before ending his career at Greek side PAOK Thessaloniki.

Since hanging up his boots, Quinn, aged 50, has become a racehorse trainer and has stables in Newmarket. He is also a regular on talkSPORT.

Tickets for the black tie event are £35 with a table of 10 at £325. Call Ian Horwell on 01785 713396 to book.

Organiser Ian Horwell, from the Round Table, said tickets were selling fast, adding: "After the success of previous events we are sure that this will be a popular evening, in particular as it is raising funds for this locally-based support group."

Leisure plan put forward as council to freeze rates

MORE than £150,000 of investment in a leisure centre and a school sports pitch will be made in South Staffordshire.

District council chiefs said they had finished drawing up £2.2 million of cuts. Bosses at the authority also confirmed plans to freeze their share of the council tax for a third year running.

by Dan Wainwright

Funding of £77,000 will replace equipment at Cheslyn Hay Leisure Centre and there will be a new all-weather pitch at Wolgarston High School in Penkridge worth £75,000.

The council will also use volunteers for grass cutting and grounds maintenance at Baggeridge Country Park and on its Railway Walk through Wombourne to save a further £14,000 a year.

Interference

The council plans to spend up to £30,000 on a new public address system for the council chamber because meetings keep being disturbed by interference from mobile phones.

Around 35 jobs will have been lost through voluntary redundancy between 2011 and 2015. Councillor Brian Edwards, leader of the Conservative controlled authority, said South Staffordshire had the fourth lowest council tax in the country.

He said all councils had been offered a government grant worth the equivalent of a one per cent increase in council tax to freeze it again. Councils are allowed to raise the council tax by up to two per cent but would forfeit the grant if they do.

Councillor Edwards said: "It would be extremely difficult to explain to local council tax payers that the council is prepared to turn down the offer of £69,000 and instead increase their council tax bill by two per cent when it could have remained frozen."

Staffordshire County Council is not increasing its rates either, but Cannock Chase Council will go for a two per cent rise in April.

Old snaps in frame

Museum of Cannock Chase visitor services assistant Abi Morris with some of the pictures on display

VISITORS to the Museum of Cannock Chase can take a trip down memory lane thanks to new photography exhibition by renowned snapper John Bulmer.

The display at the Valley Road venue in Hednesford is entitled Northern Soul. Mr Bulmer is known as the pioneer of colour photographs during the 60s and 70s. The exhibition runs until March and entry is free.

Opening hours are Monday to Friday, 11am until 4pm with last entry at 3.30pm.

Round Table recruits call

A CHARITABLE organisation in Cannock is appealing for new members. Jason Thomson, of Cannock Chase Round Table, said many men began the new year looking to join their local group.

Jason said: "Round Table is all about providing a fun and relaxed environment where men from all walks of life can get involved team activities, boost their skills and help their local community."

Consultancy firm could bring jobs boost to town

Group's tunnel vision

Members of the Wolseley Volunteer Group, who created a new living willow tunnel in the sensory garden at the Wolseley Centre

A NEW willow tunnel has been created in the grounds of Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's Wolseley Centre.

The project in the sensory garden was carried out by members of the Wolseley Volunteer Group. The tunnel replaces one that had come to the end of its natural life.

The Wolseley Volunteer Group meet once a week and carry out a variety of tasks around the 26-acres surrounding the visitor centre on the A51 near Rugeley.

A CONSULTANCY firm involved in the redevelopment of New York's World Trade Center could move its headquarters to Cannock – bringing 70 new jobs to the area.

Wintech Ltd, based in Wednesfield for around 30 years, is eyeing up a move to the Kingswood Lakeside Business Park. Bosses aim to boost jobs over the next three years.

It would bring its current staff base of around 65 people and build a new building of up to 20,000 sq ft.

The facade engineering firm, which advises on design, procurement and construction of buildings, is involved in a host of international projects including the new Terminal Two facility at Heathrow Airport and one of the tallest buildings in the world, The Petronas Towers in Malaysia.

Recession

Group managing director Chris Macey said the company was looking to expand after a boost in business during the recession. He said Kingswood Lakeside was a convenient location, close to the M6 Toll as well as train stations and airports.

The firm has also been looking at the i54 business park near Wolverhampton, where firms pay a reduced business rate.

Mr Macey said Cannock Chase Council was now looking into providing a more attractive offer to compete.

Cannock Chase Council said details of sums involved were confidential. The firm is likely to know whether it is moving to Cannock in the next month.

Three hurt as car hits tree

THREE men were injured after their car collided with a tree and caught fire in Handsacre, near Rugeley. The crash occurred on Kings Bromley Lane at around 8.45am on Tuesday. One was airlifted to Queen Elizabeth Hospital Birmingham and the others to University Hospital North Staffordshire.

Campaign to save name of Staffords welcomed

A CAMPAIGN to save the name of the former Staffordshire Regiment has been backed by the defence minister

The Third Battalion The Mercian Regiment (Staffords) is to be scrapped under government plans to reorganise the British Army. The Ministry of Defence is looking at proposals to endorse the keeping of the Staffords name.

MP Mark Francois said the government would be "happy" to back the proposals as long as they are "reasonable".

Campaigners who wanted to save the name of the former Staffordshire regiment handed a petition, signed by 17,000 people, to Downing Street last year.

Organisers put Faith in big name for forest date

THE announcement of Paloma Faith as a headline a two-day music festival at Cannock Chase has been hailed as "brilliant news".

The Brit Awards nominee, whose hits include Stone Cold Sober and Do You Want The Truth Or Something Beautiful?, will be performing on Friday, June 28.

Brit nominee Paloma Faith

Tickets are to go on sale from tomorrow (Friday).

Cannock Chase Council's cabinet member for culture, Christine Mitchell, said: "It's brilliant news. The more big names we can get to Cannock Chase, the better. It's really great news for the area.

"We do, however, need to maintain a fine balance on Cannock Chase, ensuring we keep the nature and wildlife undisturbed, while being able to do things like this as well."

London-born Faith is the latest big name to play at the beauty spot in a concert organised by the Forestry Commission.

Pleased

Forest Live sees big names play in beauty spots around the UK, with revenue from ticket sales ploughed into improving the woodland.

Rachael Miller, events manager for the Forestry Commission, said: "I'm really looking forward to seeing Paloma Faith play at Cannock Chase – it's such a beautiful venue.

"We're really pleased to be welcoming such an up-and-coming star."

Faith, aged 27, burst on to the music scene in 2009 and has had a number of hits, including New York and Picking Up the Pieces.

Tickets are £32 from the Forestry Commission box office on 03000 680400 or at www.forestry.gov.uk/music

Inspectors tell school to improve

A PRIMARY school in Cannock has been told it needs to improve by government inspectors.

Pupils at Hazel Slade Community Primary are not making good enough progress in some of their lessons, an Ofsted report says.

It adds teachers at the school in Cannock Wood Street are giving out work which is either too hard or too easy. Lead inspector Sheelagh Barnes wrote: "Pupils do not always know what they have done well or how to improve."

The school was rated as 'requiring improvement', but praised the children's behaviour. The report said: "Pupils are keen to learn and concentrate well in lessons, with very few exceptions.".

The school, which has 104 pupils on roll, will be inspected again by Ofsted within the next two years.

Head Louise Brealey was unavailable for comment.

Job club restarts

JOB hunters can kick-start their search for employment by going to the Great Wyrley's first work club sessions of 2013. Sessions are fortnightly, starting again tomorrow (Friday) from 2-4pm at Harrisons Sports and Social Club, Wharwell Lane.

Green light for sign at new supermarket

AN appeal to allow an advertising sign at a new supermarket has been given the green light.

The sign at the Aldi store in Bridge Cross Road, Chase Terrace, will be placed at the entrance to the supermarket's car park.

An application to display the illuminated sign was initially turned down by Lichfield District Council on the grounds of aesthetics.

This has, however, been overruled by the planning inspectorate on the condition that the sign is not switched on outside opening hours.

The new store was built in place of the former Bridge Cross Working Mens Club.

Section of M6 Toll shut after collision

PART of the M6 Toll was closed for almost two hours following a collision between two cars. The road was shut at the T8 turn-off at Wedges Mills following the crash at around 7.30pm on Friday (January 11). It caused delays of more than 30 minutes.

Queues also formed on the A5 near the Gailey turn-off of the M6 at junction 12, after a lorry heading towards Cannock hit the central reservation, veering across the road before getting stuck in mud on the grass verge opposite.

The accident happened at 7.05am, causing hold-ups to motorists as the vehicle partially blocked the carriageway.

Mobile phone firm rings in the profits

Colin White, managing director of SellMyMobile.com is celebrating after a record-breaking 2012

A BURNTWOOD-based mobile phone recycling firm is anticipating record sales in 2013 as users ditch their old devices for newer models.

SellMyMobile.com bought more than 500,000 handsets from its customers in 2012, up 10 per cent on the previous year, according to managing director Colin White.

In September alone, when the iPhone5 came out, the company did £5 million worth of trade in the UK and the US. It has seen growth in every month since.

Mr White said 2012 had been the company's most profitable year to date and expects 2013 to be "even better".

He said: "The business has been doing extremely well. We've been running for just over a couple of years now and we've seen strong growth in the UK and we recently set up in the US."

Sales of second-hand mobiles typically peak soon after Christmas, when many receive newer models as gifts. Bosses at the Cobbet Road firm are urging customers to get in quick for the best deals.

Firm takes action to cut bad smells

A RECYCLING firm which is the subject of legal action by 78 families, is making improvements to cut bad smells, according to the Environment Agency.

Neighbours of Hollybush Farm, near Cheslyn Hay, are pursuing compensation from Jack Moody Ltd, because of odours from the site which they claim left them unable to open their doors and windows, and even caused ill health.

by Alex Homer

It has now been revealed that the firm volunteered a plan of improvements to be made at the Warstone Road site including ensuring food waste is mixed in with garden waste when it is recycled. Changes are being enforced by the Environment Agency.

Sludge

A new site manager has also been appointed and concrete has been repaired in areas where sludge and contaminated water collects. Environment Agency spokesman Jessica Campbell said: "The company were asked to submit a site improvement plan of voluntary measures which would improve the odour issues."

The company has, meanwhile, applied to keep an extra two vehicles on site. Kate Moody, from the firm, said delivery times would not change.

Teenagers on campaign trail for youth elections

THE race is on to find the next Lichfield and Chase youth MP as next month's elections draws nearer.

Four Erasmus Darwin Academy students have been hard at work on the campaign trail in hopes of representing Cannock Chase and the surrounding area at the UK youth parliament.

Evie Hinks, aged 16, said work experience for all young people was essential. " I want to ensure all schools offer work experience, to give young people the best chance of getting into the best universities," she said.

Megan Collins, 14 said she wanted to tackle unhelpful views of young people.

"I know that people think young people complain a lot, but my main goal is to motivate them and give them more opportunities," she said.

Sophie Lycett, also 14, said she would like an education that caters for all sorts of skills. She said: "The focus shouldn't just be on high achievers, as some people's skills are more vocational and not academic.

"These people still need to be given the chances and opportunities to do what they're good at."

Matt Mansell, another 14-year-old hopeful said university fees were too high, adding: "I feel very strongly about university fees and the overall cost of attending university.

"It's everyone's right to have a good education. If we support young people in their education, they end up with the right skills that can help them get a job."

They have been joined on the campaign trail by Luke McCormack, 14, of Penkridge, who said he would like to bridge the gap between old and young.

Expensive

"I also think public transport, especially trains, is too expensive so I want to try and change that,"he said.

The elections, held every two years, are decided by children under 16 to give them a voice on the national stage.

Staffordshire's UK Youth Parliament (UKYP) elections take place on February 22, with voting officially opening on February 2.

Make special case of region is plea by MPs

THE Government has been urged to make a "special case" of West Midlands manufacturing and help bring tens of millions of pounds more investment to the i54 business park in Wolverhampton.

The plea was made during a debate in Parliament on the future of the region's industry.

Gavin Williamson, the Tory MP for South Staffordshire, told business minister Michael Fallon that the region needed support to build on the success of the i54 in Fordhouses where Jaguar Land Rover is building a £355 million engine plant that will create 750 jobs.

MPs also discussed calls for children in the Black Country and Staffordshire to be encouraged into manufacturing and engineering apprenticeships as an alternative to going to university so they can acquire the jobs being created by the likes of JLR.

Mr Williamson, whose constituency includes Cheslyn Hay, Great Wyrley and Huntington, said: "For the West Midlands to grow, we want to see the Government backing British manufacturing, West Midlands manufacturing, all the way to the hilt.

Investment

"I'd like a very clear commitment that the minister will be there supporting Staffordshire County Council, Wolverhampton City Council and South Staffordshire District Council to get tens of millions of pounds more investment onto the i54."

He said more opportunities should be offered to students aside from university.

Mr Williamson was backed by Cannock Chase Conservative colleague Aidan Burley. He said:"It's vital to tackle the skills shortage and encourage more young people to take manufacturing qualifications. "

Mr Fallon would not commit to extra support for the West Midlands but acknowledged the region's manufacturing had "not been immune" to economic pressure.

Flying club's plan

A PENKRIDGE model aircraft flying club is applying for longer hours to keep open at weekends. Lower Drayton Flyers have applied for an extension to fly its internal combustion planes. The application is expected to be heard in February.

EP launch at charity gig

Rich Walton, Scott Sieradzki, Lee Nightingale, David Johnson and Rich Bates of Lightfire get ready for their gig at Bridgtown Social Club in aid of Cash for Kids

A CANNOCK band will be rocking at its local social club to raise money for a children's charity.

Alternative rock group Lightfire will headline at Bridgtown Social and Working Men's Club on February 2 for the launch of its new EP, Run Aground.

Money from the ticket sales will be donated to Kerrang! Radio's official charity, Cash for Kids, which works with disabled and disadvantaged children in the Midlands.

Lead singer Scott Sieradzki, aged 29, said: "We have done a couple of shows before for local pubs and they have been affiliated with the charity. Because of that we got on the radio station and so we want to give a bit back."

Support will come from Mercians, We Are Saviours and Call Atlantis. The Run Aground EP will be on sale at the gig for around £3 and will later be available to buy on iTunes. Tickets are £3, with a £1 going to the charity.

They can be bought on the night at the Walsall Road club, from Arcade Music, in Mill Street or by visiting http://lightfire.bigcartel.com/

Women in plea to find a dog a home

An unnamed Staffordshire cross living in kennels

Brothers Oscar and Ollie must be taken together

Jack Russell Riley has never been around children

Another unnamed male Staffordshire cross

TWO animal lovers from Rugeley are urgently seeking owners for these adorable mutts.

Ruth Dewis and Pauline Roberts, both of whom work at Armitage Shanks, are trying to help find the dogs homes on behalf of Swan Pit animal rescue, in Gnosall, near Stafford.

Ms Dewis, of Chadfield Road, said some had been "in a bad way" when they were brought in.

She added: "The two Staffies are really suffering now. They are not taking to kennel life and if they are here for much longer they won't be able to be re-homed because they just won't settle.

"They are looking for new owners who will be patient with them. If people are going to take them on they need to realise that these dogs are not going to change overnight.

Influx

"They are very strong on their leads when going for a walk so new owners must be patient with them."

Ms Dewis said the rescue centre had received an influx of dogs since the New Year and that there were currently 253 looking for homes across the Midlands.

The pair met at work six years ago and began organising various fundraising events for the rescue centre. They hope to raise hundreds of pounds through a work raffle in the near future.

Ms Roberts, of Armitage Road, said: "We re-homed 48 dogs last year and 60 the year before that. We just love animals. When we re-home a dog, it's like we've won the lottery."

Anyone interested can call Ruth on 07900090993 or Pauline on 07971817877.

Healthy toast after pub earns four-star rating

STAFF at a Penkridge hotel and restaurant have been given a pat on the back for turning around its fortunes.

The Bridgehouse, at Stonecross, was praised for its very high standards of food hygiene and was awarded a four-star rating following a visit by health inspectors from South Staffordshire Council.

The 'good' rating is only one off the highest that can be achieved.

The food safety inspection report praised the hotel and restaurant for measures which have been put in place following a visit last year. During that visit inspectors asked owners to make improvements to the kitchen and put in better procedures.

The latest report praised the management for making improvements to the kitchen such as replacing damaged sections of the floor and putting strict hygiene procedures in place.

Changes

Owner Raj Dhanda, who runs The Bridgehouse with his wife Lomi, said £30,000 had been spent on making the improvements.

Mr Dhanda said: "We have made the improvements which have been asked of us and have also gone beyond that by making even greater improvements to the kitchen.

"Changes have been made to our staff and we have complemented our excellent existing staff by bringing in others.

"We have also put better procedures in place. We want to achieve the highest standards possible and will be aiming for five-stars in the coming months."

Jenny Rhodes, environmental health manager at South Staffordshire Council, said: "We were pleased to see such an improvement since we were here last.

"The owners have worked closely with us to put things right and to have achieved four stars this time around is testament to the efforts they've put in."

In fairness to the Bridgehouse, we have always previously had a pleasant experience there, and, with many of the changes having been made behind the scenes, my partner and I were expecting more of the same when we called in for the first time since the four-star rating was awarded.

Again, we were not let down. The quality of the food certainly deserves a high rating, with my choice of pork chops served on a bed of black pudding mash and served with vegetables being particularly impressive.

Sharon opted for the beef in black bean sauce, though the options were varied and the prices most reasonable. There is also a daily specials board and a dessert menu from which we chose Belgian waffle with ice cream and a raspberry cheesecake.

Supper

The restaurant can seat up to 80 people. A carvery is served all day on a Sunday, while the Bridgehouse also hosts a fish and chip supper evening on the last Thursday of every month.

The hotel also has 10 letting rooms and can cater for parties, birthdays, christenings and weddings. To make a booking, ring 01785 714426.

CLUB NEWS

Four new members welcomed

CANNOCK AND DISTRICT LADIES PROBUS CLUB

THE tables at the December lunch meeting looked very festive as each place was marked by a pretty box, made and decorated by the chairman Pauline Parlane.

Brenda Marshall thanked Pauline for the gifts on behalf of all those present. Members donated money to St Giles Hospice and the Air Ambulance instead of sending Christmas cards.

Handmade cards and jewellery in aid of Newlife were on sale and DVDs were available to hire. Entertainment was provided by Shirley Brown who read poems and sang Christmas songs with guitar accompaniment. A vote of thanks was given by Pam Clarke.

At the January lunch meeting the chairman wished everyone a happy and healthy New Year.

Barbara Bowman introduced three new members Jean Burrows, Gill Winter and Dorothy Robinson. Olive John welcomed Jean Burrows as a new member. Chairman Pauline presented them all with a badge and a new members' pack.

A picture and music quiz was presented by Jenny Dunn. Nadia Rowley gave a vote of thanks.

The club meets on the first Thursday of the month for lunch at the Chase Golf Club. For more details, call Barbara on 01543 505107.

Tapestry the topic of talented embroiderer

Barbara Marshall was a guest at the last meeting, talking about the Burntwood Tapestry

BONEY HAY AND CHASE TERRACE WI

THE new year began with a visit from the talented Barbara Marshall. Barbara has been a welcome visitor several times during last year and it was a pleasure to see her again.

Her topic this time was 'The Burntwood Tapestry', which can be seen at Burntwood Library.

This work was designed by Barbara and with some help from a small number of needleworkers, a beautiful picture was made. In the centre of the tapestry is depicted the Coat of Arms for Chasetown which is surrounded by pictures of many sights in and around Burntwood, some of which are sadly now gone. Beaudesert Hall which was sold in 1921 was taken from a very old photograph and shows a very large and imposing house which was the home of the Marquis of Anglesey.

Another large house stands at Edial built in the 16th century, where in 1909 Dr Samuel Johnson held his school for a year with a total of three pupils.

Hammerwich Cottage Hospital was built in 1881 and maintained by the miners who contributed twopence per week for the upkeep, It is now closed and the ground covered with houses. There are several churches depicted, one of which is St Annes in Chasetown, noted for being the first church in England to be lit by electricity.

St Josephs Roman Catholic Church in Chasetown is now demolished and a new building stands on Lichfield Road, Burntwood. There are scenes of Chasewater, and windmills in Hammerwich and Gentleshaw.

Speaker's cheesy subject

ETCHING HILL WI

THE January meeting was opened by the vice president Fran Brian whose new year poem made everyone forget the cold dark evening.

There was more hilarity to follow, as the speaker Ian Rogerson gave a most interesting talk on cheeses, including Yarg and mango with ginger. He brought along samples for members to try.

Members were also reminded of future SFWI events including the spring council meeting, a county quiz, the homes & gardens day and Denman weekend.

Following a brief stop for tea, the annual post-Christmas auction took place with duplicate presents or items brought and not used, up for sale to the highest bidders.

It made £90 towards WI funds.

Burns Night party

Owner Scott Murray and piper Hamish McDowell look to celebrate Burns Night at the Premier Suite, Cannock

A POPULAR Cannock venue is celebrating the birthday of Scotland's favourite son with a Burns Night weekend.

The celebrations in honour of poet Robert Burns start at 7.30pm on Saturday, January 26 at the Premier Suite, in High Green.

Entertainment includes Scottish party band Celtica, a Rod Stewart tribute, highland dancers and bagpipers from Stirling. A DJ will play tracks from Scottish bands including Bay City Rollers, The Proclaimers, Wet Wet Wet and Simple Minds.

The evening will include a Scottish themed meal complete with haggis, neeps and tatties. Tickets are £24.50 each. The event starts at 7.30pm.

On Sunday, January 27 a Scottish themed family Sunday lunch will be served from noon, to include a traditional Scottish Ceilidh band, piper, highland dancers and children's magician. Sunday lunch is £15.50 for adults and £5.95 for children. Under 5's eat for free.

Scott Murray, owner of The Premier Suite, said: "This is our sixth Burns Weekend and it is always a great weekend."

For any other information or to make a booking ring The Premier Suite on 01543 572092.

Boxer's support for Till comeback

BOXER Peter Till has received a special message from his legendary friend and former sparring partner Barry McGuigan ahead of his comeback fight.

Till retired as a pro in 1996 – but will step back into the ring for the main event at a boxing at The Premier Suite in High Green, Cannock, on Wednesday January 30.

He was due to fight in November but his opponent pulled out at the last minute.

The 49-year-old fighter will be raising funds for Prostate Cancer UK in memory of his father George, known as Fono, who died from the disease, aged 58.

Just weeks before the fight he has received a touching message from former World featherweight champion McGuigan, with whom he used to spar.

Till, from Coalpool, said: "He sent me a text message wishing me all the best for the fight saying he thought it was a lovely gesture raising money in memory of my father. I was very touched by it and it has spurred me on to train even harder leading up to the fight."

The former Midlands area lightweight champion and a former UK number one had 52 professional fights winning 30, losing 21 and drawing one.

He became friends and sparring partner to Barry McGuigan following a fight against Neil Haddock in Port Talbot, Wales, which he won on points.

Comeback fighter Peter Till

After approaching McGuigan for a chat and advice, he invited Peter to his home near Luton for sparring sessions. They have remained friends ever since.

There will be six bouts on the night including five undercard fights, culminating in Till's six three minute round contest.

Tickets start from £15. Call 01543 572092 or Peter Till on 07432 142343.

Break-in discovered at pub

BURGLARS stole thousands of pounds of goods from a pub near Rugeley. The break-in was discovered at the Royal Oak in Uttoxeter Road, Hill Ridware at 10am on Monday, January 14. Items stolen included cash, frozen venison meat, knives, catering tubs, a Panasonic 47 inch plasma TV, a 19 inch LCD TV, Toby jugs, a half-size grandfather clock, brass horse decorations and bottles of wine, whisky, champagne and spirits. Anyone who saw anything suspicious, or who has been offered any of the stolen goods, should ring Staffordshire Police on 101, quoting incident number 134.

Two new outlets announce they are to move into town

TWO new businesses are opening stores in Hednesford as part of the town's multi-million pound redevelopment. They are the latest to sign up to the regeneration scheme.

Now, bosses behind the transformation say even more big names are expected to sign up.

by Laura Blyth

Charity Barnardo's and Boyd's hairdressers are both set to open stores at Victoria Shopping Park, which has a large Tesco superstore at its heart.

Others already open at the retail park include Costa Coffee, Lloyds Pharmacy and Phones 4u.

A Pets Corner store and Aldi supermarket are also planned.

The work at the retail park is being carried out by St Modwen.

Retail

Development surveyor Mark Watkins said: "We are holding discussions with a number of other national and local retailers interested in units, with names due to be announced soon."

The 20-acre Hednesford scheme stretches across two new developments – Victoria Shopping Park and Chase Gateway.

Alongside retail space a range of leisure facilities including a purpose-built building for Hednesford Bingo and a new 10,000sqft community centre are also included in the scheme. The community facility will have a 3,500 sq ft main hall with stage and timber dance floor and a 1,300 sq ft function room.

Two bars will serve both these areas and there will also be a fully equipped kitchen and food storage area.

The development at Victoria Shopping Park also includes 600 parking spaces. Tesco opened there in November.

The supermarket in Victoria Street created 220 new jobs, with 94 going to long-term local unemployed.

Hednesford has already seen the opening of the Lightworks centre. And a motel, cafe, laundrette and other outlets have opened next to Woody's bar.

Another development in Hednesford includes pub giant JD Wetherspoon being in talks to take over the historic Anglesey Lodge and turn the building into a pub, a move which is being welcomed by councillors.

Band in tune for anniversary concert

The Enfield Citadel Band are tuning up for a concert to mark Hednesford Salvation Army's 131st anniversary

AN indoor concert will be held to celebrate the 131st anniversary of Hednesford Salvation Army next month.

The Enfield Citadel Band will perform a variety of medleys at the Army's Anglesey Street base on Saturday February 9 at 7pm.

Territorial envoy Rob Westwood-Payne, said: "Everyone from the Hednesford Salvation Army is looking forward to this event. It is a testament to the hardworking people we have in our church who are all volunteers.

"The band has roughly 35 members and is very popular in and outside of the army so we are expecting a full house. I would urge people to get their tickets now."

Tickets cost £10 and are available by visiting www.ecbathednesford.eventbrite.co.uk or alternatively visitors can pay £12.50 on the door.

For more information visit www.salvationarmy.org.uk

Group looks ahead with planning of park events

THE Friends of Hednesford Park says it is looking forward to the year ahead with community events already being planned.

More than £2m has been awarded to improve the park by the Heritage Lottery Fund and the Big Lottery Fund and the Friends group has been raising awareness of its plans ever since.

The group will be organising another It's a Knockout competition for the summer and members are looking for ways to improve the lantern parade for Halloween.

Chairman Lynn Evans said: "We have many projects and funding bids in progress for new events this year and if anyone wishes to put any ideas forward they would all be taken seriously.

Anyone wishing to have a say is asked to visit www.friendsofhednesfordpark.btck.co.uk

Burns Night fun for Lupus

SCOTTISH entertainment is on offer at Keys Park, Hednesford, to celebrate Burns Night.

Singer songwriter Alan Frew will be performing in aid of the Hibbs Lupus Trust on January 26. There will also be a raffle and traditional Scottish food.

Tickets are £28 for adults and £14 for children on 07872341008.

New skills are learned in Friends' workshops

RESIDENTS in Hednesford learned new skills at a workshop organised by the Friends of Hednesford Park at the weekend.

Visitors were taught how to use a pole lathe at Chasewater Innovation Centre in the first of the five sessions and will learn greenwood crafts including map reading and orienteering at sessions in the coming months.

Friends chairman Lynn Evans said: "The first session was a taster lesson to experience different skills, tools and greenwood crafts, to see what people would like to make during the course.

"We have decided as a group to make a pole lathe to use in Hednesford Park for workshops and we will be working on a giant willow sculpture of a heron to display in the park."

For more about the courses call 07896 239717.

Messy church is year's first

AN afternoon of crafts, stories, songs and food will be held for youngsters and their parents in Hednesford at the weekend.

Trinity Church on Station Road will host the messy church event, its first of the new year, on Sunday (January 20) from 3-5pm.

Fitness centre relaunch after £190,000 facelift

A GYM in Cannock is sporting a new look following a £190,000 revamp. The new-look Nuffield Health Fitness & Wellbeing Centre in East Cannock Road features a refurbished reception area, and a revamped the cafe.

Staff were this week celebrating the completion of the project by offering free taster sessions. A new online tool to monitor fitness was also launched and physiotherapists, physiologists and nutritionists were all on hand throughout the day to advise visitors.

The event also showcased the launch of a new Wellbeing membership, focused on helping people to achieve fitness goals, with the introduction of health mentors to act as coaches and give support.

Women are encouraged to enter the Race for Life

WOMEN across Staffordshire are being urged to sign up for this year's Race for Life.

Events are taking place at Stafford's County Showground on Tuesday, July 9 and at Walsall Arboretum on Sunday, May 19 as well as at West Park in Wolverhampton on Wednesday, June 19.

Registration for women of all ages and fitness abilities opened this week for the 5k challenges. This year, organisers need 11,250 women and girls across the region to sign up and help raise £543,000. Every hour, around three people are diagnosed with cancer in the West Midlands alone.

Emily Thompson, Cancer Research UK West Midlands events manager urged people to enter and said: "Together, we can hit cancer where it hurts. There are over 200 cancers and we won't give up until we find cures for them all."

Memory

Every year, women dress in pink to raise cash for the cause and in memory of their lost loved ones.

Ms Thompson added: "Women of all shapes, sizes, ages and levels of fitness take part in Race for Life.

"They come from different backgrounds and walks of life but they are united by their absolute determination to take on cancer and beat it. Race for Life is non-competitive. It's not about being fit or fast.

"Race for Life is an amazing way to celebrate life but also remember those who have been lost to the disease."

To enter go to www.raceforlife.org or call 0845 600 6050.

Knifeman in robbery at store is sent to jail

A KNIFEMAN who robbed an isolated village store has been jailed for four years.

Homeless Dean Jones threatened shop assistant Jodie Greatrex with a five inch kitchen knife at Village Stores in Hazel Slade.

Jones demanded money before reaching over the counter and grabbing a handful of notes, Stafford Crown Court heard last week.

Five days after the robbery, on November 10 last year, Jones went on to burgle a bungalow in Garden Drive, Rugeley. Left behind in the property was a black-handled knife which had the defendant's DNA on it.

Catalogue

Jones, aged 31, of no fixed address, admitted charges of robbery and burglary, plus other offences and asked for nine further offences to be considered.

Judge Michael Chambers QC told him: "I need to protect the public from you."

Mr Paul Farrow, prosecuting, said Jones's catalogue of offences started with an assault on his partner on June 1.

In September he stole jewellery and other property from his mother's house in Rugeley. On November 5 Jones stole money from a charity box at Rugeley's Cedar Hotel and later the same day committed the robbery in Hazel Slade.

Marathon task is in memory of best friend

by Will Ackermann

A NORTON Canes man has been training tirelessly to run the London Marathon in memory of his best friend.

Simon Allen will be raising money for the Cystic Fibrosis Trust in honour of his former colleague, Aaron Hall, who died from the disease last year at the age of just 20.

Simon, 31, of Red Lane Crescent, said: "He was a real character. He spent the last 12 months in hospital – bed bound and losing a lot of weight – but he never gave up. He kept his sense of humour till the end.

"He didn't have the chance to do everything but he used the time he did have to the full."

Simon Allen is to run the London Marathon for the Cystic Fibrosis Trust in memory of his friend Aaron Hall

Regular

Already Simon has raised nearly £700, but he needs £2,300 worth of sponsorship to enter the race.

He has been working out at his local sports centre every other day and taking regular runs to get fit for April 21.

He said: "The closer it gets, the more the reality kicks in and it's a bit daunting.

"At the moment I'm running every other day. I do between two and four miles before work and then afterwards I head to the gym to hit the treadmill.

"I used to just grab a bacon sandwich at work, but now it's grilled chicken salad and brown rice."

Simon's wife Kelly said she had also changed her diet in solidarity, although she admitted she was not being "quite as strict".

Her eight-year-old son Jak's school, Jerome Primary School, will be holding a non-uniform day to help add to the fundraising Simon will be speaking about the cause in an assembly.

Brewery is bucking trend by expanding

Austen Morgan celebrates the growing success of the Backyard Brewhouse, based in Brownhills

Cheers – Licensee John Horton celebrates the re-opening of The Fountain Inn, Walsall

THE £200,000 expansion of a Brownhills brewery, poised to create new jobs and increase beer production by 150 per cent, has been completed.

Backyard Brewhouse at the Gatehouse Trading Estate has undergone a massive transformation, and new equipment has been installed which will allow the firm to produce 50 barrels a week. The firm recently secured a new contract to supply pub company Punch Taverns and is expecting to reach full capacity in March.

The expansion has seen the five-year-old brewery in Lichfield Road grow from 1,400 sq ft to 2,500 sq ft.

Tours

Bosses have also announced they intend to start running tours of the new-look brewery in the same month.

Director Austen Morgan said: "The brewery is looking very nice now."

Brewery bosses also recently took over The Fountain Inn, in Lower Forster Street, Walsall, and reopened the 150-year-old pub last month after a revamp costing almost £100,000.

Licensee John Horton, aged 59, of Fullbrook, said: "It has gone swimmingly. We are very pleased.

"It's been completely refurbished because it was in poor condition but now it looks great and we have an open fire in the lounge."

Music man is scent wild by perfume girl's voice

Beth Sherburn at the perfume counter in Merry Hill where she was discovered

SHE'S usually seen behind a perfume counter at the Merry Hill Centre – but Beth Sherburn is on her way to stardom after a record producer overheard her singing at work.

The 21-year-old was at work in Debenhams when she was singing along to a Michael Buble's Christmas classic.

Little did she know that music producer John McLaughlin, behind such acts as Busted, Girls Aloud and Take That, was shopping nearby buying scent for his wife.

He approached her to compliment her on her voice during the trip on November 28, and promptly invited her to work alongside him in his studio.

The 21-year-old from Sedgley has now signed a contract with Purple Circle Records and has this month released her first single, a cover of Duran Duran's Ordinary World.

Chance

Beth, who stayed in her job until Christmas, said the record contract and meeting John McLaughlin was a "dream come true".

"He was just rushing in to get his wife a present so I was very lucky to be in the right place at the right time," she said.

"I am always singing at work – I sing all the time."

John said: "It was a little miracle as I discovered Beth by chance when I was in Debenhams at Merry Hill.

"I rushed in having stayed over after a meeting and I wanted to get something for my wife when I heard this girl singing to herself."

Beth's promotional picture

He added: "She stopped me in my tracks. I thought she had the most incredible voice. I knew there and then I had to get her into the studio to test out that voice and see if she had real talent."

Beth performed at The Birmingham Repertory Theatre with Matthew Kelly and George Costigan in Don Quixote when she was 14. She also sang in a gospel choir with Katherine Jenkins at The Royal Albert Hall.

In addition, she plays saxophone, clarinet, guitar and piano.

Beth has since collaborated with songwriter Jud Mahoney, who has worked with some of the world's leading artists.

Holiday fun sussed

Cheslyn Hay Leisure Centre assistant Rebekah Warren and operations manager Matthew How

GO-karting, trampolining and cheerleading are among the half-term activities available in South Staffordshire during the February half-term.

The Sussed activity programme is running at Cheslyn Hay, Penkridge, Wombourne and Codsall between February 18-22.

The council-run programme also includes football, swimming, water polo, judo, water zorbing and athletics

South Staffordshire Council chairman councillor Mary Bond said: "We're always hearing about rising levels of obesity but these days local authorities have leisure centres that are well-equipped to offer a range of different activities.

"The leisure centres are very well-equipped. So I would say the equipment is there and the opportunities are there.

"I would encourage as many people as possible to get involved in these activities."

For more details or to sign up for an activity during half-term visit the website at www.sstaffs.gov.uk/sussed

New plant to rid factory of smells

PLANNERS hope bad smells wafting from a Cannock car parts firm could soon be a thing of the past.

Tallent Automotive has had plans passed for a new effluent treatment plant which will clean waste water from the factory prior to its disposal.

by Marion Brennan

Councillor John Kraujalis, Cannock Chase Council's planning committee vice chairman, said residents had complained to him about bad odours from the site.

"I want to be sure that this new treatment plant won't make the situation worse," he said.

Cleaning

"There has to be a balance between the needs of industry and local residents."

Steve Morris, a manager at the Wolverhampton Road plant said some sulphuric acid was used in the cleaning process but staff were working with the Environment Agency to ensure the highest standards from all their activities.

The application was for an extension to an existing building, used as a workshop. A site notice was put up outside the premises and neighbouring residents notified by letter. No representations were received.

Councillor Kraujalis, who lives just 100 yards away in Langdale Drive, said neighbours had complained to him about the smell.

Arrest made as van stolen

A TEENAGER was arrested and bailed after a van was stolen in Heath Hayes while its driver unloaded items from a side door. The silver Peugeot Partner was parked on Melbourne Road, and was driven off at around 4.15pm on Tuesday, January 8. Police located the vehicle nearby soon after and arrested a 17-year-old in connection with the theft. Witnesses should call Staffordshire Police on 101, quoting incident number 464 of January 8.

GARDENING

Get set to make sure tubers beat the blight

FEBRUARY is the time to buy your seed potatoes and to set out the tubers so they can sprout in a light, cool position.

For anyone that saw their potato foliage decimated by crippling blight disease and subsequently saw their crop of tubers much smaller than average and without storing qualities, you may like to consider buying blight-resistant varieties this year.

There are many of them to consider, some bearing the Sárpo name (pronounce Sharpo) but not all of them.

First of these blight-busting super-spuds was Sárpo Mira, a red-skinned maincrop that is great to start with although you could also try Kifli, a waxy, white-skinned "new" potato flavour, or Blue Danube a good roaster that has white flesh surrounded by a purplish-blue skin.

Setting

Garden centres will be selling all these varieties and Thompson & Morgan are offering a collection of 10 tubers of six Sárpo varieties for less than £20.

Whatever potato variety is your favourite, it pays to 'chit' the seed. That means setting out the tubers in egg boxes or trays with the 'rose' end uppermost in a cool (10C – 50F) but light spot to allow them to sprout.

Planting doesn't normally take place of maincrop varieties until March, but in the meantime you can prepare the soil by digging in plenty of organic matter into the bottom of trenches that are 75cm (2ft 6in) apart.

Before fruit trees and bushes burst into flower, dress the soil around the roots with Miracle-Gro Sulphate of Potash.

This is one of the new Miracle-Gro "straight" fertilizers recently launched to the garden market.

This one improves the strength and vigour of fruiting plants and increases the amount of potassium in the soil to improve flowering and fruiting. It's ideal as the potassium nutrients are released quickly in time for flowering while at the same time improving resistance to bad weather and disease.

Just a few handfuls to cover the area of the spreading branches is sufficient to improve fruit set.

After application, dig the plant food into the top few centimetres of soil and then mulch the area with Levington Organic Choice Soil Conditioner.

This will retain moisture in the soil and if a sufficient depth is achieved will also help to suppress weed growth.

● Words and photographs supplied by John Clowes, of The Scotts Miracle-Gro Company

Blue Danube, above, with its purplish-blue skin is a good roaster, while Sárpo Mira, left, is a great maincrop. If you don't have cloches, delay sowing parsnips and carrots, right, until March

Topical tips

Wait until March before sowing seeds of parsnips and carrots unless you have the benefit of protective cloches to warm the soil and keep off the frost. Parsnip Albion is an F1 hybrid seed from Suttons that promises early vigour.

Silly sausage Harry is back for sizzling show

HARRY Hill has not done a live stand-up tour for six years. Now the comedian is back on the road – and it has been well worth the wait.

In Sausage Time, the floppy-collared comic returns with a show that dazzles on every level.

For instance, it pledges to give us absolute proof that God exists, provides a section for Tongans, showcases the legendary Stouffer the Cat and proffers a debut solo stand-up spot to Harry's son Gary, best known for his role as Alan Sugar in Harry Hill's TV Burp.

Slapstick

We are also promised performances by the show band, The Harrys, the whistler-of-chart-hits grandson Sam and an all-singing, all-dancing finale. Oh, and a giant sausage. One thing we should anticipate above all else is a wonderful sense of silliness.

"There's never a serious agenda to my comedy," said Harry. "I use a lot of slapstick and a lot of silly wordplay and puns.

"The show doesn't have an overall theme. It's just a load of silly stuff."

The comic has been doing warm-up shows and has relished the experience of performing live again. "I've loved it," he said. "It gives you such a buzz. Hearing laughter is such an exciting feeling."

Harry added that, after the long-winded process of making TV shows, stand-up offers more freedom.

"Stand-up is so immediate. You can have an idea in the morning and get a laugh for it in the evening. No-one else can tell you what to do, apart from the audience. The audience is the ultimate arbiter."

The comedian, who has won multiple BAFTA and British Comedy Awards, said he had no regrets after quitting TV Burp after 11 years.

"At the end of that last show, all the production team were crying but I went back to my dressing room and felt like a weight had been lifted.

"The closest equivalent was when I gave up medicine."

Sausage Time is at the New Alexandra Theatre on February 26 and 27. Tickets are £31.

Harry Hill is returning to stand-up and, above, the TV Burp entertainer is seen with the legendary Stouffer the Cat

All ingredients for family show

A TRADITIONAL panto is being staged by Cannock Chase Drama Society next week.

The group is putting on Sleeping Beauty at the Prince of Wales Centre, in Church Street, with the curtain up at 6.30pm on Wednesday, January 23. The show runs until Saturday, January 26 at 7.30pm each night with a matinee on the final day at 2.30pm.

The family show has all the necessary ingredients for a spectacular production with music and dance, coupled with comedy and audience participation.

Tickets are £9, £8 concessions or £30 for a family of four, available from the box office on 01543 578762 or from Lisa Blakeley on 07968 757820.

February's programme at the Prince of Wales Centre includes a production of Oliver! by Cannock & District Catholic Schools' production.

Featured songs include Food Glorious Food, You've Got To Pick-a-Pocket Or Two, Consider yourself and I'd Do Anything. It takes place on Wednesday, February 20 at 7pm, with tickets priced at £7 or £5 concessions.

Rockers perform

INDIE rock band The Rock Dogs play at Bridgtown Social Club, Walsall Road, on Saturday (January 19). The band plays covers of Foo Fighters, Kings of Leon among others and will be on stage around 9pm.

Hazel Irvine presents the second semi-final from Alexandra Palace, London, where the line-up for the final will be confirmed. However, it was the Thunder from Down Under who went on to win the prestigious trophy. This year's draw meant that Murphy and Robertson could have met in the last four once again.

Pick of the Week

Stars shine bright in a night of celebration

We love the Oscars, Golden Globes and Emmys – the Baftas aren't half-bad either.

But our favourite film or TV-related gong-giving ceremony of all has to be The National Television Awards.

Why? The answer to that is simple: because every award is voted for by the people who really count – those of us who tune in at home.

Forget the critics or the contributors' fellow cast and crew members, it's the folk who watch the shows whose opinions count the most, because without them, there would be no programmes to start off with.

So if your favourite doesn't bag a trophy on the night, you only have yourself to blame for not backing them.

The people receiving them also rate the ceremony highly, as executive producer Kim Turberville of Indigo Television, who make the National Television Awards for ITV, says:

"Viewers are the bedrock of our show because all the winners are chosen by the public. So I hope they will respond to our call to action again this year in this quest to discover the nation's favourite stars and shows.

"The NTA trophy is the award that says people love what you do. That's why it means so much to win one."

This year, the NTAs themselves have something to celebrate, having come of age. Yes, this will be the 18th time the ceremony has taken place, and as a result, it promises to be bigger and better than ever before.

It's certainly going to be very exciting indeed, with many of the categories just too close to call.

Making its debut in the Factual Entertainment slot is The Great British Bake-Off, and you wouldn't bet against it bagging a prize.

Arguably the most intriguing battle comes in Drama, where writer Steven Moffatt's two productions, Doctor Who and Sherlock, go head-to-head; their stars, Matt Smith and Benedict Cumberbatch, are also vying for the Drama Performance: Male gong.

However, both shows could miss out if the mighty Downton Abbey retains its crown, or if fans of Merlin, in their sorrow of it finally drawing to a close at Christmas, decide to give it the ultimate farewell – one of those nice, shiny awards.

The Drama Performance: Female nominees are an intriguing bunch too. The smart money is on Sheridan Smith for her outstanding performance as a Great Train Robber's wife in Mrs Biggs, but Miranda Hart could surprise everyone – after all, she's been rather impressive in Call The Midwife.

Other awards being given on the night will be for Comedy Panel Show, Talk Show, Factual Programme, Situation Comedy, Serial Drama, Serial Drama Performance, Reality Programme, Newcomer, Entertainment Programme and Entertainment Presenter.

Dermot O'Leary hosts the ceremony from the O2 Arena in London, and watch out for his show-stopping entrance, which apparently features a very special dance partner indeed.

We're not revealing the identity of who (or what) that will be – but if you think really hard, we bet you can guess...

Best of the Rest

MONDAY
Wild Things
Channel 4, 8.30pm
Does garden designer Chris Myers have the best job in the world? Actually no, that claim well and truly went the 'caretaker' of the Great Barrier Reef a couple of years ago. However, Chris's comes a close second – he spends his time in the fresh air, among the birds, bees, and flowers - what's not to love? Chris, who's a Royal Horticultural Society gold medalist and garden designer, is joined by one of our top botanists, Dr Trevor Dines, lichenologist Sally Eaton, and his trusty Labrador Lottie. First up, the teams head to Birmingham and they start looking for wild things amid the heart of its road transport network. Why? Because in the last 50 years, these roadsides have become Britain's latest nature reserve.

TUESDAY
Great Houses with Julian Fellowes
ITV, 9pm
Think of actor-turned-screenwriter Julian Fellowes and what springs to mind? Probably the productions he's created, in particular Downton Abbey and Gosford Park. If you've seen them, you'll probably have noticed that at the centre of both is a very posh house indeed, and Fellowes has created compelling characters who inhabit them. But now he's turning his attention to the real people who live in these places. This two-part documentary sees the Oscar-winning writer visit Goodwood House in West Sussex and Cambridgeshire's Burghley House to unearth their remarkable histories. "These are not just houses for posh people to live in," says Julian, "their history belongs to all of us."

Death in Paradise
BBC1, 9pm
Like Midsomer Murders, the format for this winning comedy drama is simple enough: a series of nefarious crimes are committed in an idyllic setting, and we at home have to guess who did it before buttoned-up English DI Richard Poole (Miller). When the body of Valerie Dupree is discovered floating in the pool of a luxury cosmetic clinic by swimmer Jayne Smythe (Cherie Lunghi), several things point to suicide. However, Poole believes Ms Dupree was murdered. The whole thing is handled with a likeable lightness of touch, and Miller proves as engaging as those glorious Guadeloupe backdrops. Series regulars Don Warrington and Sara Martins star alongside James Fleet and Emma Pierson.

WEDNESDAY
Charley Boorman's South African Adventure
Channel 5, 8pm
Join the eponymous adventurer on the ride of a lifetime as he journeys through South Africa on his trusty BMW motorbike. In search of thrills and excitement, this week Charley samples South African life from three differing perspectives – in the air, deep below ground and in the bush. He takes to the skies as he learns how to para-jet and then even tries his hand at gold mining underground; detonating the dynamite himself in search of the precious metal. He then heads into the bush getting up close and personal to Africa's greatest wild animals also enjoying some traditional dinners around the campfire. Follow his footsteps as Africa plays host to his most daring adventure yet.

Death in Paradise, Tuesday, BBC1, 9pm

THURSDAY
Silent Witness
BBC1, 9pm
Given the generic first 30 seconds of this week's episode, you might feel the urge to switch over, but if you like slick post-watershed dramas stick with it, because the tale of a prostitute's run-in with a mysterious pimp-bashing copper proves to be disturbingly compelling. Following the opening credits, the forensic team are called in when Joanne Henderson, a pub landlady is stabbed to death and has her little finger cut off. Although Leo and Jack collect mounting evidence that her husband was responsible, Nikki believes the man is innocent. After he is charged with the crime, she faces a race against the clock to convince her colleagues the woman was the latest victim of a serial killer.

FRIDAY
Celebrity Big Brother: Live Final
Channel 5, 9pm
Claire Richards, Frankie Dettori and Gillian Taylforth are among those who have been basking in the camera's spotlight, while The Hills' Heidi Montag and Spencer Pratt; models Lacey Banghard and Paula Hamilton; Neil 'Razor' Ruddock; The X Factor's beloved loser Rylan Clark, and Sam Robertson (from E4 comedy Beaver Falls) have also enjoyed time in the famous abode. Millions of Neighbours fans rooted for Ryan Maloney, while Heartbeat and The Royal veteran Tricia Penrose also has a solid fanbase, but by now you'll know who's made it through to this stage and who will be licking their wounds. Expect host Brian Dowling to grill the winner in what promises to be a glitzy finale.

The Last Leg
Channel 4, 9.30pm
This show first won plaudits during the Paralympic Games, when its host, Adam Hills, and his colleagues Josh Widdicombe and Alex Brooker, offered an intelligent and alternative commentary on the day's events. A non-sporting version of the show was hinted at back in October when Syeda Irtizaali, Channel 4's entertainment commissioning editor, said: "We are working on a number of great ideas that will help push the show forward from its Paralympic origins into a broad, intelligent and entertaining series. I'm hugely looking forward to working again with Adam, Alex and Josh." Clearly they've found a format that works, because the trio will be fronting it for the next eight weeks – and we can't wait to see how it turns out.

Dacia's Sandero Stepway is certainly turning heads with its value for money spec

Must if you are in search of a bargain

DESPITE being a brand defined by the affordability of its cars, Dacia understands the need for models that give the people what they want. The Sandero Stepway is one of those.

Based on the Sandero hatchback, the Stepway is more of a crossover-type car, riding higher and with a handful of off-roader styling cues to give a more rugged look.

Sales in this sector of the market have been ballooning for the last few years and Dacia would be daft not to get in on the act.

The sub-range is almost identical to that of the Sandero hatch.

It's in the company's interests to share parts, platforms and equipment as much as possible, allowing a cheaper price to then be passed on to the consumer.

There are turbocharged 0.9-litre petrol and 1.5-litre diesel engine options with two trim levels, so the Stepway does without the entry-level engine and trim options you can get in the ordinary Sandero.

Tested here is the Stepway Laureate 1.5 dCi; the priciest Sandero variant you can buy at a likely £10,795 or so when order books open in the spring.

For around £1,000 less, you can have the gutsy and frugal 898cc turbocharged petrol TCe, which makes it the soundest financial bet for most buyers. Either way, Dacia predicts a lot of people will go for Laureate spec for its massive value for money.

As well as the 40mm ride height increase over the common-or-garden Sandero which improves accessibility and gives a better view of the road ahead, buyers get smart-looking roof rails, an in-built colour satnav system, cruise control, a speed limiter and reverse-parking sensors.

Not the sort of things you normally expect on a sub-£11,000 runabout, but all of them very welcome.

Impressive

The 89bhp diesel engine is equally impressive on the value front. Based on the cheaper of the two Renault-Nissan alliance small-capacity units (there's also a 1.6 in the group), it produces ample power and only 105g/km of CO_2, which although not hitting the tax-free heights of some of its costlier Renault cousins is still very impressive – and very cheap to run.

One of the parts shared between all Sandero models including the Stepway is the rev counter, which has no red zone and extends past 7,000rpm.

The diesel can't reach those engine speeds but pulls well between 1,900rpm and 3,500rpm.

The weight difference between the diesel and the petrol is about 60kg, and all of it rests over the front wheels.

The Stepway, with its taller stance, is especially susceptible to the negative effects this has on the way the car drives, feeling just a little more ponderous around corners and marginally firmer at the front end. A stiffer suspension set-up has been used to account for the extra weight.

But for general biffing around town or country, the diesel Stepway is a thoroughly amiable little partner, happily negotiating steep hills and displaying fine cruising credentials.

The only issue is louder-than-average wind noise around the front screen and A-pillars.

Its five-speed gearbox is a bit notchy when locating a new cog and if you place your hand on it, the gear lever can feel wobbly. It's not too noticeable during normal gearshifts though.

A highlight among the practical benefits that the Stepway can claim over the standard Sandero has to be the unpainted plastic trim around the wheel arches, side skirts and bumpers.

It helps prevent certain kinds of car park knocks and scrapes from damaging paintwork and offers a cheaper repair solution. Otherwise the car shares the surprisingly spacious boot and ample rear legroom of the Sandero.

Although Dacia has taken an earbashing from Euro NCAP over the safety scores its cars are getting, the safety bods are getting a little overzealous with their latest requests for five-star cars – and in isolation the UK-spec Sandero Stepway would get a sound four.

Make resolution to help keep car in good shape

YOU may have started the New Year with good intentions to get yourself back in shape but what about your car?

If you have neglected your car over the past year, it's time to get cracking before it's too late. So the experts at Haynes have come up with this plan for your car to prevent any problems before they arise:

1 check the tyres at least once a month

Correct tyre pressures are vital for good grip, maximum tyre life and good fuel consumption. Check tyre condition (no cuts or bulges) and tread depth too. The legal minimum tread depth is 1.6mm, but stopping distances in the wet are seriously affected by anything below 3mm.

2 check the engine oil level regularly

Once the oil pressure warning light comes on, engine damage may already have occurred. Extended service intervals make it more likely that topping-up will be required between services.

3 be kind to the car's battery.

Reduce the strain on the battery, and prolong its life, by starting the engine before switching on the lights, heater blower, heated rear window etc. Follow the same procedure in reverse at the end of your journey.

4 make a few simple checks before putting the car in for its MoT.

Around 40 per cent of cars fail their MoT at the first attempt, and most are due to simple faults such as a blown light bulb, a split wiper blade or an excessively worn tyre – all items which are easy to detect and fix before the test.

How to improve driving

ROAD safety charity the IAM is offering motoring tips from Britain's top advanced driver, Peter Rodger, on how to improve your driving for the New Year:

Night driving: You must be able to stop in the distance you see to be clear. Use your lights on full beam where possible and keep windows and mirrors clean to maximise your view.

Eyesight: The NHS suggests having an eye test every two years. It is your responsibility to ensure you're fit to drive. Many eyesight problems are worsened when driving in the dark.

Weather: Heed weather warnings all year round. If the weather is really bad, consider whether you need to travel at all. If so, there are alternatives to driving.

Year-round maintenance: Clean your windows, lights, mirrors and number plates regularly. You should spend around 10 minutes every week checking your vehicle's fluid levels, tyre pressure, lights, tread depth and windscreen wipers.

Eco-driving: A planned drive is an economical drive – having a good sense of your vehicle's power and gears will save fuel.

Anticipate: Consider what the traffic around you may do, especially at traffic lights, roundabouts and junctions.

Refuel: Be sure to top up your tank, especially when embarking upon long journeys. Running out of fuel causes hundreds of motorway breakdowns every year.

Rodger said: "The New Year is a common time for people to sit back, reflect and evaluate their goals for the upcoming year.

"Why not begin by incorporating your driving behaviour into your list of resolutions for 2013?"

To help drivers stay safe this winter, the IAM has launched a new website – drivingadvice.org.uk – with traffic updates, weather forecasts and tips on how to drive safely in winter. Tips cover rain, snow, ice, fog and wind – everything you can expect in a typically unpredictable British winter. Check it out before you travel.

5 save money by driving more economically

Fierce acceleration and hard braking are bad for fuel consumption, and also increase wear and tear on suspension, brakes and tyres. High speeds are bad for fuel consumption, too – cruising at 60mph instead of 70 will improve consumption by nearly 10 per cent, whereas cruising at 80 instead of 70 will worsen it by up to 25 per cent.

Finally, a well-maintained vehicle is more economical, more reliable and holds its resale value better.

Haynes manuals have been helping motorists to repair and maintain their vehicles for more than 50 years and the company has now launched its top 100 car and motorcycle manuals online at www.haynes.co.uk so you can now access service and repair information on your PC, laptop or smart phone.

Japanese marque will rename its line-up for 2014

INFINITI is to rename its entire range under a new nomenclature system from 2014.

The Japanese premium car maker will re-badge all its new models from that time using either Q or QX designations in an effort to boost its prestige feel and recapture some of the company's heritage and its first car, the Q45.

Starting the new model lines will be the Q50, an all-new luxury saloon that will be unveiled in January 2013 at the North American International Automobile Show (NAIAS).

Suffix

While the Q label will be used for saloons and any future estates or hatchbacks the company may plan, QX will be saved for SUVs and crossovers.

Every model will have a double-digit numerical suffix.

Johan de Nysschen, president of Infiniti Motor Company Limited, says: "Over the past few months we have talked at length with our retailers, our customers, and our business partners about our brand.

Identity

"The need for a new identity and direction to promote consumer familiarity with our model range as we expand the portfolio became evident.

"To achieve this, we clearly needed a simple and consistent nomenclature framework.

"After exhaustive research and evaluation, we concluded that 'Q' captured the inspiration within the next generation of Infiniti models, as well as emphasising our performance credentials while harking back to our heritage with the Q45 – Infiniti's first iconic flagship product in 1989."

An update for 2013 – the newly styled BMW Z4 features Vanencia Orange paintwork

More goodies are promised with the new sporty BMW Z4

A NEW BMW Z4 is on the way with new styling, more equipment and a new entry-level model, the Munich-based company has confirmed.

A mid-life update sees mildly revised lines mix with a familiar set of engines and trim levels, apart from a new sDrive18i model, which uses a detuned version of the 2.0-litre four-cylinder turbocharged unit in the sDrive20i, and in SE trim it loses the 20i's leather seats.

At present the 20i, which has until now been the range's entry point, accounts for 80 per cent of the model's sales and BMW is hoping to expand sales with a more accessible option.

High-performance Z4s start with the four-cylinder turbocharged sDrive28i, with the six-cylinder turbo-aided sDrive35i and 35is as the standard bearers. All three are limited to 155mph, with 242bhp, 302bhp and 335bhp respectively.

Package

SE and M Sport are maintained as the available trim options, but a new and more visually striking option has been added.

The Pure Traction Design package can be ordered on any Z4 and brings with it Valencia Orange paint, an optional gloss black roof, leather and Alcantara sports seats with contrasting stitching and darker 'metal weave' interior trim.

Standard equipment across all models now includes DAB radio, xenon headlights, Bluetooth, USB connectivity and a multi-function steering wheel. Only the sDrive18i SE does without 'Kansas' leather upholstery as standard.

The Z4 will go on sale in March, with on-the-road prices starting at £27,610 and rising to £45,795. The Pure Traction Package will cost between £550 and £2,240 depending on which model it is added to.

Japanese premium car maker Infiniti will rename the whole range of its models under a new nomenclature system from next year

New floors, offices and lighting plus a larger showroom to accommodate 10 cars at Redditch Volkswagen

Revamped showroom to launch the latest Volkswagen

THE launch of the next generation Volkswagen Golf has been marked with the unveiling of Redditch Volkswagen's £360,000, cutting edge showroom refurbishment.

Redditch Volkswagen, part of Trust Group UK with sites in Wolverhampton and Stourbridge, has undergone a major facelift over the last 10 weeks.

Malcolm Toon, brand manager at Redditch Volkswagen, said: "This is a huge investment by the Trust Group, and will make us one of around 40 dealerships in the country to offer the latest Volkswagen retail concept.

"This new facility features an extension to our car showroom from seven cars to 10 and reaffirms the Volkswagen corporate identity."

During the refurbishment the showroom was completely overhauled – new floors, lighting, offices – resulting in new customer-focused amenities.

These complement the 'digital showroom' launched last year, an innovative service which enables customers to configure their dream car on in-store iPads featuring a dedicated Volkswagen app.

Mr Toon added: "The much anticipated arrival of the all new seventh generation Golf has created a real sense of excitement here at Redditch, and we are thrilled to be able to showcase it at the same time as our stunning new showroom.

"The Golf is integral to the Volkswagen brand, and we are hoping to see lots of our former and future customers visiting us over the weekend when they will be able to get their first look at it – and our refurbished showrooms."

Chevrolet's Aveo is a good looking all-rounder with plenty of bonus points

Chevrolet Aveo at ease in the city or on the motorways

By Bob Hickman

THE five-door Chevrolet Aveo is a diminutive city car but do not let that badge deceive you because this vehicle is at ease on the motorway, the open roads, countryside as well as in and around the city.

Chevrolet with the Aveo have done like a good many other manufacturers have done and created a 5-seater in a small foot print and in a small package that will be easy to fit in your garage, on your drive or in a restricted parking space. It is a 5-door hatchback with ample room for 5 occupants, it is extremely stylish, and the front with its twin grille almost seems to smile with a welcome home to you.

Chevrolet like a good many other manufacturers are adopting a corporate look at the front with the huge, bold Chevrolet badge and these twin grilles mean you know that this vehicle belongs to a pedigree company of some years standing.

The new Aveo has a completely redesigned exterior and cabin, it also has a newly developed chassis and a body structure and Chevrolet have gone down the route of trying to make their engines far more fuel efficient with reduced emissions levels, and they have succeeded.

They have produced an everyday car, well engineered which is an enjoyable vehicle to both own and also to drive.

The engine options available on the Aveo are 2 petrols, a 1.4-litre, producing 100 bhp and a more diminutive 1.2-litre producing 86 bhp.

My particular test vehicle was equipped with a 1.3-litre diesel engine, a very small engine but with common rail fuel injection, stop/start technology, with a variable geometry turbo-charger meant, it had a power output of 95 bhp and this was an excellent combination to the vehicle.

The performance was more than adequate for my needs and fitted perfectly in to the size scale and type of the vehicle. It had extremely low emissions at 95 gms for the little 1.3-litre Eco option meaning seriously cheap in fact free road fund licence at the moment.

Adjustable

The fuel consumption figures quoted by Chevrolet are quite outlandish, suffice to say that during my week in company with the vehicle in a variety of driving styles and situations, but primarily in and around town and a lot of stop/start motoring, I managed to achieve 52 mpg, which is a long way short of the claimed 78.4 combined cycle, but for a vehicle of this size and performance, I was quite pleased at 52 mpg.

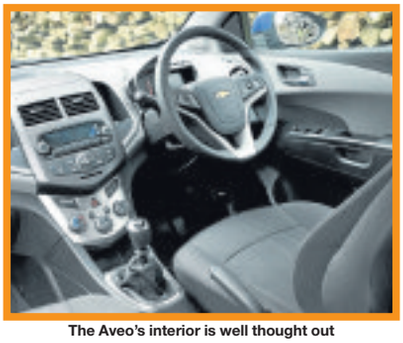
An option which will suit a lot of drivers is that there is a 6-speed automatic transmission unit available with the 1.4-litre petrol engined models, this could well be the factor which tips you over the balance of looking at this derivative, an automatic gearbox in a nice small compact car, add in to the equation ease of access into all the seats and a not too high boot loading aperture and further ownership boxes are ticked.

The particular derivative that I tested was an LT, there are 3 trim levels available, badged as LS, LT, and LTZ, mine fitted in to the middle category, but even that is seriously well equipped with nice 15" alloy wheels, a blue tooth phone compatibility system which regrettably no matter how I tried couldn't get it to connect to my HTC phone.

It had the benefit of hill start assist, cruise control, and electric windows, driver's seat multi-adjustable, I liked the factor that the exterior mirrors were heated so on the cold frosty mornings that we had whilst I tested the car this feature was an absolute bonus. The vehicle and all the range have a 5* NCap safety rating which is more peace of mind.

The performance aspect was more than acceptable, Chevrolet suggest a top speed of 108 mph and a 0-60 gallop could be achieved in marginally over 11 seconds and of course the important feature is the CO at a mere 95.

My particular derivative was priced at £12,795 on the road and I really do believe that this is another of the small city cars that if you were on a tight budget it is certainly worth a look especially as the range start at £9,995 and all benefit from a 5-year warranty.



The Aveo's interior is well thought out

New MiTo packs big punch for small car

THE introduction of the two-cylinder TwinAir engine into the Alfa MiTo range reinforces the MiTo's image as a high-tech, sporty, compact car offering maximum driving pleasure whilst exceeding driver expectations.

With a CO2 output of just 98g/km and official Combined Cycle fuel economy of 67.3mpg, the Alfa MiTo TwinAir is the cleanest and most economical model in its class. Business and retail customers can enjoy impressive financial benefits including zero road tax, the lowest 10 per cent BIK rate, London congestion charge exemption and Group 9 insurance rating.

The 85hp TwinAir Turbo is the first of a series of two-cylinder engines developed by Fiat Powertrain.

Complementing the introduction of the new powerplant, the MiTo TwinAir range is available in a new metallic body colour – Ametista Black with a purple hue.

Damien Dally, head of brand, Alfa Romeo UK said: 'The Alfa MiTo TwinAir is an intelligent response to modern driving requirements – premium styling, a sporty and engaging driving experience, combined with outstanding ecological and financial benefits. It's the last word in automotive engineering in terms of technology, performance and environmental consideration.'

Key to the Alfa MiTo's innovative success is the marriage between two award winning technologies; the two-cylinder TwinAir engine, and MultiAir – winner of Best New Engine of the Year 2010.

Already a proven success, the TwinAir engine dominated the 2011 International Engine of the Year Awards, winning Engine of the Year, Best New Engine, Green Engine of the Year and Best Sub 1-litre Engine. This is only the second time that a sub 1-litre engine has taken the top award, with the judging panel praising the powerplant's impressive innovation.

The perfect engine for urban driving, TwinAir boasts lively and enjoyable petrol engine performance with the consumption and running costs of a frugal diesel.

The MiTo TwinAir is the cleanest and most economical model in its class, (3-dr, B-segment, petrol), with Combined Cycle fuel economy of 67.3mpg; CO2 emissions of just 98g/km, a zero road tax rating and just 10 per cent BIK – the lowest possible banding meaning company car drivers can pay as little as £23.49 a month and save the three per cent premium they would pay for an equivalent sub 100g/km diesel.

Dynamics

Thanks to the 100 per cent capital allowance on cars with CO2 emissions lower than 110g/km, companies are able to write off the whole cost in the first year, as opposed to 20 per cent per year, bringing down the amount subject to corporation tax and significantly reducing a company's liability.

Alfa MiTo takes everything Alfa Romeo knows about sports car dynamics and distils it into one head-turning supermini. Now, the world's sportiest compact car is even more enjoyable to drive, thanks to the introduction of the revolutionary 85 hp TwinAir Turbo engine.

The MiTo TwinAir's sporty and environmentally compatible powerplant uses MultiAir technology combined with specific fluid dynamics optimised for maximum fuel efficiency.

The adoption of a small turbocharger results in excellent performance and, above all, great flexibility and response for a rewarding drive.

The 875cc TwinAir Turbo engine, mated to a close ratio 6-speed gearbox, delivers a maximum of 85hp at 5,500 rpm and a torque of 145Nm at 2,000 rpm. Maximum torque is available from 2,000 rpm and is constant up to 3,500 rpm – between 10 per cent and 25 per cent more torque when compared to the 105 and 78hp petrol engines in the current range.

The MiTo TwinAir combines sporty performance with one of the most efficient drivetrains on the road today. Thanks to the Start&Stop device and 'intelligent' alternator, the MiTo with TwinAir engine has the lowest petrol CO2 emissions in its segment at just 98 g/km – up to 30 per cent less than an engine with equal performance – combined with a dramatic reduction in fuel consumption.

The new Alfa MiTo TwinAir is available in two trim levels – Sprint and Distinctive – priced at £14,150 and £15,350 respectively.

A generous standard specification on the Sprint trim level includes 16-inch sports alloy wheels, cruise control, front fog lights, manual climate control, Alfa D.N.A. (driving mode selector) and Alfa's Blue&Me™ system with Bluetooth®- hands-free connectivity and USB media system.

The Distinctive trim level also benefits from standard premium features including 17-inch sports alloy wheels, red painted Brembo brake calipers, rear parking sensors and chrome/aluminium detailing.

All new UK Alfa Romeo cars sourced from Alfa Romeo UK come with three years' AA Contact, which includes Roadside Assistance, Home Start, Relay, Relay Plus, European Cover and Accident Management. This insured service is provided free of charge and is available 24 hours a day, throughout the year and also includes access to travel information, legal advice and technical information.

For peace of mind, all Alfa Romeo UK cars are covered by a 3-year unlimited mileage warranty, including parts, materials and labour.

The Alfa MiTo Twin Air has won several awards for its innovative engine

Wolves' seventh signing Sam Masters

New signing: My debt to Woffy

Speedway

NEW Wolves speedway signing Sam Masters has revealed the major role played by Tai Woffinden in securing his place at Monmore Green.

Masters is the seventh and final man in the Parrys International Wolves line-up and will start at reserve alongside Jacob Thorssell.

And he said he owes a debt of gratitude to Woffinden.

"I'm really pleased to be joining Wolves; Woffy speaks very highly of them in terms of the management and everything else about the place," he said.

"I was disappointed not to get a team place until now, but I know the way averages work. I will be riding with Edinburgh in the Premier League and it's nice to be riding for two clubs with such a good reputation in the sport.

"Tai pushed my name forward. They were taking their time over who to sign as the last team member and it was Woffy who really pushed, I cannot thank him enough for that.

"It's good because he can advise me on set-ups as I get used to the Wolves track and I really believe it will enhance my career in a big way."

Masters, who joins Woffinden, Freddie Lindgren, Ty Proctor, Adam Skornicki, Ricky Wells and Thorssell, added: "I'm absolutely buzzing about the prospect."

Meanwhile, Freddie Lindgren is determined to help turn Wolves into speedway play-off contenders again.

The Swede celebrates his testimonial at Monmore on Sunday, March 10.

But he reckons the priority is with the team. "Hopefully, I can have a better year at Wolverhampton because it's been a tough couple of seasons both for me and the team," he said.

"I really need to look to do something better in 2013. We had some good success as a team with winning the league in 2009 and doing well in 2010, but the last two years have been really down for us.

"We definitely need to have a better season this time, and I know the whole team will be desperate to do that. It's always really hard to predict how well teams will do before the season has started."

Lindgren's younger brother, Ludvig, is the latest rider to be confirmed for the testimonial fixture.

The likes of Nicki Pedersen, Andreas Jonsson and Chris Harris are among the competitors, but Newcastle rider Ludvig said: "I'm not afraid of anyone, so bring them on!"

Seconds maul Tigers as nine goals fly in

WITH the first team still on their mid-season break, Cannock's middle-order sides came into the spotlight – and they enjoyed success across the board.

Cannock 9 Barford Tigers 0

With a side pulled together at the back end of the week, a dip in performance might have been expected from Cannock's second team. However, the side quickly got to grips with Barford Tigers and a feast of goals soon began. Cannock emerged as easy winners and now sit with a 100 per cent record, 11 points clear at the top of the Midlands Premier League and boasting a startling goal difference of plus 72.

Barford Tigers 0 Cannock 4

Cannock thirds returned to league hockey after the long winter break to face a feisty Barford Tigers side.

The game began with both teams defending well but Cannock scored after 10 minutes when Aaron Wilkes followed up a rebound from his short corner strike.

They continued to press but chances were squandered until Louis Morris pushed in an easy second goal.

Barford attacked with a lot of creativity from their skilful centre-half. However, Olly Balcom kept out any chances with a few routine saves. Cannock's third goal came from Tom Widdowson.

Although Cannock had the majority of play and camped out in the Barford half, they scored only one more goal through Morris.

The win keeps Cannock two points clear at the top of the table.

Cannock 3 Bournville 0

After being nudged off the top of the table before Christmas, Cannock fourths got back on the winning track.

As expected, they pressed the visiting Bournville side from the start, but as has been the case all season, that final ball of quality to open up the goal was missing.

The first 20 minutes were certainly wrapped in post-Christmas cobwebs, but despite a dip in sharpness and several passes and tackles lacking in accuracy, Cannock's game soon began to regain some of its early-season quality.

Their first goal was courtesy of a Bournville defender after a strike from George Southall took a deflection into the net.

The second was driven with pinpoint accuracy into the corner of the goal by Dave Wigg after Callum Stacey found him lurking at the top of the D.

Dan Bosi's persistence rewarded him with Cannock's third goal and in the closing minutes, Bournville responded and keeper Joe Minter had to make a series of saves .

With rivals West Bridgford drawing, Cannock have regained top spot.

Cannock Hockey Club

Stourport 0 Cannock 5

Cannock fifths went nine points clear at the top of the ENER-G MRHA Central League West Midlands Premier Division thanks to this comfortable away win.

Within the first five minutes, dominant Cannock capitalised on some excellent team play for Darren Pugh to open the scoring nad then added a second.

Cannock continued to push forward, but excellent goalkeeping denied them until late in the half when Matt Jarocki slotted home for a 3-0 half-time lead.

The second half saw Stourport change their formation to prevent a landslide of goals but Cannock added two more thanks to an excellent strike by debutant Alex Kingston and a late Liam Daffern goal.

Cannock Masters 6 Stourport Masters 0

Cannock's Masters side (over-40s) progressed to the next round of the England Hockey Cup after a convincing win over last year's Plate finalists Stourport.

Jitsu juniors earn their black belts

Danielle Manning, Haydn Jennings and Codey-Jay Stewart with their awards

THREE junior members of Staffordshire Martial Arts Centre, based in Rugeley, have passed their black belt examinations.

Danielle Manning, Haydn Jennings and Codey-Jay Stewart all completed tests lasting several hours in front of a panel of senior instructors. The students have been training several times a week over the past five years or more in aiki ju jitsu. Head instructor and eighth dan Keith Morgan said he was proud of the students' dedication and commitment.

Aiki ju jitsu consists of joint locking, throwing, strikes, kicks and grappling.

The centre, based at Elm House, Wharf Road, in its eighth year. For information, visit www.aiki-ju-jutsu.co.uk, e-mail uksjjc@hotmail.co.uk or call 07878 615467.

Double hat-tricks grabbed in victory

Junior football

Hednesford Town U10 4
FC Premier U10 0

HEDNESFORD TOWN ran out convincing winners against FC Premier.

Ryan Wood's cross flicked off a defender's back to open the scoring before Jamie Hitchborne quickly added a second. Tom Lee Davis tapped home at the back post shortly after half-time before Kai Reeves completed the scoring. Jack Robinson and Louie Reynolds were solid at the back.

Hednesford United Girls U15 10
AFC Phoenix Girls U15 0

Ellie Bilson and Chloe Taylor each bagged a hat-trick for Hednesford. Katie Cox struck twice and there were also goals for Jess Fowler and Eve Hilditch.

Heath Hayes U14 1
Stafford Rangers U14 3

Last year's Lichfield League champions Heath Hayes missed out against Stafford Rangers. A deflected goal set the Boro' on their way, only for Hayes to equalise. Rangers regained the lead with Ben Starkey's volley and Ryan Blagborough's diving header from a Jack Tomlinson cross wrapped up the win.

Church Farm U9 1
AFC Cannock Town U9 0

Farm took the honours when man of the match Harry Buzzard scored with the final kick of a hard-fought game that could have gone either way. The result was hard on Cannock's outstanding goalkeeper.

Healthy set of numbers sign up for the big run

ENTRIES are coming in now for the Action Heart five-mile run on Sunday, February 24 (9.30am).

If you have yet to start training, it's still not too late. The programme is flexible and you can accommodate a missed day by adding a couple of minutes to the other days and swapping the rest day to suit your individual situation.

Newcomers to running should remember to warm up before each session and warm down afterwards. It is helpful to stretch your leg muscles prior to running and brisk walking or jogging on the spot for five to 10 minutes is an effective way of preparing the body.

If you have decided to have a go, why not encourage others by letting them know how you are getting on? Call Joy Brown at Action Heart on 01384 292233 or email running@action-heart.com

Do your running on well-lit roads and, if possible, with a friend.

Controversy as City are beaten

Hanley Town 2 Lichfield City 0

TWO controversial goals in extra time put Lichfield City out of the Staffordshire Vase at the quarter-final stage.

Lee Ashmore fired an excellent chance wide for City in the dying moments of normal time – and it proved costly.

Theo Stair looked offside when set free by a pass. His shot was parried by keeper Craig Johnson but Danny Tainton fired home the rebound. Tainton then set up Stair, again looking offside, for the second goal.

A second-half flare-up during the narrow loss at Shrewsbury for Burntwood

Burntwood lose it at the death

Shrewsbury 23 Burntwood 20

THE lead swapped hands twice in stoppage time in a dramatic finale – but it was the home side who had the last word to leapfrog Burntwood in the Midlands Three West (North) table.

Burntwood have now lost each of their last three competitive matches by one score.

Each side dominated when playing with the slope and cold breeze in their favour. It was Shrewsbury's turn first and they led at the break 13-3. The visitors didn't help their cause by conceding a string of penalties.

Infringements saw Burntwood retreating into their own 22-metre area, the final award being converted for a three-point lead after five minutes.

From a line-out, a penalty for handling on the ground saw the home kicker double his side's lead. With half an hour gone the hosts scored the first try of the match. It was converted to give Shrewsbury a 13-0 lead.

Burntwood won possession at the restart via Lloyd Shelley. Hal Gozukucuk drove the ball up to the home 22m for the first time and when Shrewsbury infringed, Aza Dune't landed the penalty. Back came the hosts but Burntwood defended well until the break.

The visitors quickly took advantage of the playing conditions in the second period. A big kick into opposition territory by Graham Shelley set up a well controlled drive finished off by a pass from Matt Sishton to the unmarked Rob Jones for an excellent try in the left corner. Then the Shrewsbury right winger raced down the touchline, beating two tacklers, to restore the 10-point lead.

Both sides became involved in a melee following a tip tackle on Shelley and while the tackler spent 10 minutes in the sin bin replacement winger Ben Tranter notched his debut try for the firsts. Dune't converted.

Burntwood looked to have clinched it in stoppage time when prop Anthony Davies squeezed over for a rare try for a 20-18 lead.

All the visitors had to do was see out time but a moment's hesitation at the restart allowed Shrewsbury's 15 players to drive over the line for the winning score.

Keeper inspired, but Scholars still hit four

ONLY visiting keeper Alex Malong managed to keep the score down as Chasetown thrashed Evo-Stik First Division South basement club Hucknall.

The Scholars had a point to prove after their 5-1 reverse in midweek, but came into this game against a side that had lost 13-0 and 6-1 in the new year, writes Paul Mullins.

Chasetown 4
Hucknall 0

Chasetown were at the races from kick-off and deservedly took the lead after just 10 minutes when Simon Brown crossed from the right, Gary Hay dummied the ball through his legs and Nick Wellecomme could not miss from close range – his 10th league goal and 12th of the season.

Malong made the first of his many saves with a superb double stop in the 20th minute.

Doubled

First, he went full stretch to his right to deny Hay and then, from the rebound, recovered brilliantly to keep out Wellecomme from what looked like a certain goal.

The Scholars doubled their advantage in the 27th minute. Hay went round the keeper inside the penalty area only to be tripped by Malong's left hand.

Malong received a yellow card and Brown fiercely drove the penalty straight down the centre into the roof of the net for the 10th goal of his debut Scholars season.

Former Cameroon under-21 keeper Malong, who had last appeared at the Scholars Ground for Rothwell five years ago, was making many friends among the Chasetown supporters, who couldn't help but sympathise with Hucknall. Indeed, their manager Jason Truscott stood down three days after this game.

Malong made a low save to deny Hay from an Andrew Westwood cross, and Wellecomme put a header wide from three yards.

Eight minutes before the break there was even a cameo attack from centre-back Chris Slater.

Wellecomme hit the post five minutes before the break, and the half ended with Richard Teesdale thundering an effort just wide.

Hay added a third goal six minutes into the second half and the one-way traffic continued. Wellecomme pulled a shot inches wide of the post and saw Malong repel everything before the keeper's luck ran out six minutes from time when Hay's effort deflected past the stranded Hucknall No. 1.

■ Chasetown's Staffordshire Senior Cup match at home to Heath Hayes on Tuesday was postponed due to freezing weather.

Overworked goalkeeper Alex Malong saves again, left, but Chasetown's Gary Hay accepts the plaudits after scoring

Marvel Massey leads the way to big win

Lichfield 46
Berkswell and Balsall 16

FANS who braved the cold were treated to some high-quality rugby.

But it was the home side who ran out 30-point victors in this Midlands One West clash.

Lichfield started with intensity and direction and were quickly on the scoreboard with an excellent team try well finished by Brad Rowlands and converted for 7-0.

Interplay between the forwards and backs then saw some good handling, creating space for Greg Massey to speed his way to the visitors' line.

Everything was going Lichfield's way, with Massey getting himself on the scoreboard twice more thanks to some superb individual touches.

For 20 minutes Lichfield dominated, but complacency began to creep into their game.

Missed tackles and errors allowed Berkswell to play through phases, and they soon crossed the Lichfield try line.

Berkswell maintained this pressure and were rewarded with a penalty in front of the posts. It was kicked successfully, leaving Lichfield to go in at half-time leading 24-10.

Slowly

Lichfield received the second-half kick-off and were instantly penalised at the breakdown.

Berkswell kicked the penalty and used the conditions to pin Lichfield back into their own half.

Lichfield slowly got back to their structured play, and it was another dazzling burst from full-back Massey that saw him run virtually the length of the pitch before releasing brother Josh to touch down.

Lichfield were now in the ascendancy, and as Berkswell tired the home team took over.

Two more well-taken team tries for Greg Massey, and Brad Rowlands rounded off the scoring.

With a bonus point gained, Lichfield know the remaining games each hold important merit if they are to put pressure on the top two.

This weekend the first XV take a break, with the seconds, thirds and Colts all at home.

Rugeley make headway against the Barbarians

It's a chill wind as Rugeley run riot

Rugeley 57
Birmingham Barbarians 0

A COLD afternoon turned even chillier for the visitors after Rugeley ran in a host of tries.

The home side's set play and determination was evident from the start as Jamie Richer was allowed the freedom to run the line and score the first try with only minutes on the clock.

With only 10 more minutes gone, Mitchell Everall got the first of his two tries to put Rugeley 14-0 ahead.

Hooker Scott Reed then broke through to stretch the lead to 21 points.

Birmingham did show some good defensive play, but the home side managed to break them down continually.

They scored once more when Jordan Wood set up fly-half Andy Morecock to cross and make the half-time score 28-0.

Pride

Rugeley continued their onslaught in the second period with a dubious try by Rob Castles and quickly added another through scrum-half Cei Griffin to leave Rugeley 38-0 up with only 11 minutes of the second period played.

Birmingham continued to play with pride and at times went close to scoring, but the Rugeley defence proved impregnable.

At every opportunity the Rugeley forwards pushed the visitors all over the park.

Home captain Matt Willis-croft scored in the right-hand corner to make it 43-0.

Everall crossed for his second score and the conversion took Rugeley to the 50-point mark.

With just five minutes left, Rugeley's Michael Wilkes crossed for a converted try to round off the scoring.

Team coach Richie Simmond praised outstanding play by Everall, Morecock and Wood.

Visitors give their hosts a good working-over

Worksop T 0 Hednesford 4

HEDNESFORD secured their most comprehensive win of the season to boost their championship charge in the Evo-Stik Northern Premier.

Prior to kick-off, Worksop, in the play-off places, looked like providing a serious test to the Pitmen's title credentials but by the end they had been dealt a heavy defeat.

Elliott Durrell scored his 16th and 17th goals of the season alongside a strike from Aaron Rey and a welcome appearance on the scoresheet for left-winger Nathan Woolfe.

In truth though, the winning margin could have been much more.

With North Ferriby's game against Whitby falling victim to the weather, Hednesford's win cut the deficit at the top of the table to four points with two games in hand.

The worry before the match for Hednesford had been the prolific partnership of Tom Denton and Leon Mettam for the home side but once Dan Crane had saved twice from Mettam early on, the Pitmen's central defensive partnership of Ben Bailey and Francino Francis were imperious, especially against the aerial threat of Denton.

Mettam forced Crane into his first save on three minutes with a header from a corner before breaking through down the left on eight minutes and shooting low at the feet of the goalkeeper. Woolfe fizzed a shot inches over the crossbar on 16 minutes before the Pitmen were forced into an early substitution with Neil Harvey limping off to be replaced by Michael Lennon.

Jamie Jackson played a clever one-two with Denton on 23 minutes and Crane had to beat away a powerful volley, but within 60 seconds the Pitmen were ahead when Durrell's shot was blocked and Woolfe calmly volleyed the loose ball into the corner.

Durrell flashed a superb half-volley just past the left-hand post and saw a long- range free-kick saved low by Paul Bastock before he arrowed a right-foot shot into the corner from 20 yards to double Hednesford's advantage on the stroke of half-time. It was in the second period that the Pitmen really applied the accelerator and, on another day, could have scored five or six against a Worksop team who simply had no answer to their opponents' incisive attacking play.

Lennon scampered clear down the left and squared the ball to Durrell, who lofted his shot over the crossbar on 50 minutes. Eleven minutes later Rey's point-blank shot was blocked by Bastock after the striker had latched onto Lennon's flick.

Durrell put the game beyond Worksop on 65 minutes as Bastock failed to keep out a fierce drive and Rey wrapped up the win with a fourth in the final minute.

PRAISE FOR PITMEN AFTER BIG VICTORY

HEDNESFORD TOWN manager Rob Smith has heaped praise on his team after the Pitmen thrashed Worksop Town 4-0 last Saturday to cut the deficit at the top of the Evo-Stik Northern Premier Division to four points.

The Keys Park outfit were humbled by the same score when Worksop visited the Midlands in September.

But it was the fluid attacking play and the application of the whole Hednesford team which dominated the home side and so impressed the man in charge.

"I thought the way the players applied themselves was tremendous," he said.

"Once we got a foothold in the game after 10 minutes, we totally dominated and the pleasing thing was that after half-time we never gave them a sniff of getting back into it."

Stress

A goal each from Elliott Durrell and Nathan Woolfe in the first half, another from Durrell and a late fourth by Aaron Rey in the second proved the Pitmen's superiority.

They also paid The Tigers back for the result earlier in the year.

But Smith was keen to stress the result had nothing to do with revenge and everything to do with a superb team performance.

"Revenge wasn't what the day was all about, it was about beating a very good team on their own patch," he said.

"It was very pleasing to see everyone perform so well."

League leaders North Ferriby United were granted a week off with their game at Whitby Town falling victim to the bad weather.

So Hednesford, with two games in hand, have The Villagers firmly in their sights going into this weekend's home match against Matlock Town at Keys Park. North Ferriby entertain Stocksbridge Park Steels.

However, the ice and snow put paid to Tuesday's Birmingham Senior Cup quarter-final with Alvechurch.

With temperatures unlikely to rise much above freezing for the rest of the week, Pitmen supporters are advised to check Twitter, Facebook and www.hednesfordtownfc.com for updates towards the weekend.

TV tussle Dave will feel right at home

CANNOCK'S Dave Egan hopes to make Walsall Town Hall home from home as he boxes there again on a televised bill tomorrow night.

He made his professional debut there in May, outpointing Matt Seawright.

Now the ex-Chasetown semi-professional footballer faces Ricky Stock live on BoxNation. Egan knows the town well, boxing for Walsall Wood ABC as an amateur.

The 29-year-old welterweight will also see the British title contested in his 10st class between Frankie Gavin and Jason Welborn at the top of the bill.

He said: "It's going to be some night.

"It's easily the biggest show I have been involved in. It's a massive show.

"Walsall is probably the most local town to me being from Cannock, so I just can't wait. To be on this undercard in only my fourth professional fight is brilliant."

Since his pro bow, Egan has seen off Danny Dontchev and Jerome Samuels over the distance but a first stoppage win continues to elude him.

Only Samuels seemed interested in fighting rather than surviving and Egan wants a better class opponent this time.

He said: "I need to test myself against good opposition. I would rather lose a fight than just be in against boxers who I am able to beat up every round.

"I'm taking each fight as it comes and hope to be in a competitive fight this time. The plan is to keep learning and progressing.

"It would be great to fight for a Midlands or Masters title this year and then push on from there."
